

The Port Arthur News

VOL. XXII. NO. 102.

PORT ARTHUR, TEXAS, FRIDAY, APRIL 13, 1923.

PRICE FIVE CENTS

HADLEY OF BEAUMONT HANGS FOR MURDER

SHORT STORIES

Hamline again.
Baseball tomorrow.
Med is "clearing up."
Start work on ball park soon.
DAILY SHIP SCORE: In Port Arthur, 15; at Beaumont, 4.
W. V. Craig busy gathering baseball players for City Team.
D. M. Hodges here Wednesday and Thursday looking around.
LATEST BOOKS: "From Prison to President," Leonard Power.
TODAY'S SAD THOUGHT: The most in sugar price is taking candy from the baby.
H. F. Baker got out his truck shoes and joined the race for police shift this a. m.
PHOR PHEMALE PHANS: S. S. hears the rogues have cornered the rouge market.
A. A. Poteet shaking a wicked arm today passing out candy. (They were candidates' carls, though.)
Detective Landice Sinitiere were a traw hat while presiding over the lack sergeant's sent this a. m.
CROMOS TO BE CROWNED: The guy who insists on you favoring his candidate and gets sore it out don't.
Stevens defied a brand new turban today and threw it in among the others for commissioner of public records and finance.
Captain George Curry, at Central fire station, who joined the ranks of fire fighters a week ago today, still coming to work in a white shirt.
Meet Leonard Power, new president of Port Arthur Business College. He will finish out this term as principal of Franklin school, he said S. S. today.
H. G. feels safe in placing a bet that the girl who danced more than 12 hours without stopping, feels like something she never sees—a dish of.
Contributed by G. K. Lomax, city collector and assessor:
"Count that day lost whose low depending sun, Finds not another candidate entered in the run."
CROMOS TO BE CROWNED: The hard-headed motorist who needs up behind a spooning couple in a park roadway and turns his spotlight on them.
Drummer, entering city engineer's office: I'm looking for the city engineer.
Steno: I've been looking for him myself for the past month.
(Curtain)
DAILY POME:
It rained and rained and then it stopped.
and the sun came out inew.
ay, we don't mind a little rain, after the sun shines out; do you?
—Coffee Club Ballads.
EXAS WHEAT CROP OUTLOOK IS BRIGHT
ACSTIN, Texas, April 13.—The wheat crop on the west Texas plains this year is exceedingly bright, according to R. P. Smyth of Plainview, to state the yield this year will be approximately 1,000,000 bushels as compared with 700,000 last year.

POWER IS PREXY OF PAB COLLEGE

Board of Trustees Name Franklin School Head ELECTION UNANIMOUS
To Succeed Dr. W. A. Callahan, Resigned
Leonard Power, principal of Franklin school and widely known educator, has been elected president of the Port Arthur Business College to succeed Dr. W. A. Callahan, resigned.
Announcement of the selection by members of the board of trustees was made this morning along with the acceptance of the local school board of Power's resignation.
Larger Field
Power had recently been elected to a two year term while the school board was built to release him because of his success at Franklin school it was felt that inasmuch as the business college was a Port Arthur institution he would still be serving the town and at the same time it would give him a much larger field in which to work and use his ability.
His resignation from the local schools will take effect at the close of the school term and he will then begin at once his duties as president of the college. Dr. Callahan leaves the school with very high praise from the board and regrets that illness in his family forced him to leave the Gulf coast country.
In looking around for another man to fill Dr. Callahan's place the trustees carefully considered many applications and turned down some from San Antonio, Houston and Lake Charles.
Development Program
"We feel that in securing Mr. Power we are most fortunate," one member of the board said. "He is well known throughout the country as an educator, having had more than a usual principal of Franklin school, he is old S. S. today."

FRIDAY THE 13TH IS A FICKLE JADE

If a black cat crossed your path as you started along your way, forgive the wayward feline. It's the 13th and Friday.
—Coffee Club Ballads.
SOME aver that Friday 13th works as a hoodoo, and there are still others that swear it means nothing in their young lives.
Anyway, Jim Brennan, clerk in the city's water department, took no stock in "the old Friday 13th jinx," proudly explaining this morning that "this is my birthday, and I can't afford to worry about having bad luck."
In the city police department, several of the employees took advantage of the jinx-day by appearing in brand new straw hats. And none of us expressed a fear that it would rain, or that any other thing would happen because it is Friday 13th.
LOCAL baseball players got ready to do their outfields and gather up their sticks for a light practice this afternoon, despite the fact that it's Friday 13th.
"It's the first time the sun has shone in a long while anyway," one of the boys explained, "and we consider it lucky."
FRIDAY 13TH was celebrated up in the Chamber of Commerce building by a meeting of the board of directors of the Retail Merchants' association, and a meeting of the directors of the Day Nursery, neither body apparently worrying about the date.
FRIDAY 13TH brought luck to Leonard Power, principal of Franklin school.
"Following a meeting of the trustees, it was announced that Power had been appointed president of the Port Arthur Business College. And so he had."

AUPHIE TURNER DIES INSTANTLY

Tragedy Overtakes Lineman Touching Live Wire
BODY IS SEARED
Victim Hung Suspended By An Arm
ORANGE, Texas, April 13.—Touching an uninsulated part of a high voltage wire, Auphie Turner, 46 years, lineman, was instantly killed Friday while working on the line between Orange and the oil field.
Turner's body writhed and twisted, smoke and flame shooting off from his arm where it came in contact with the wire before he fell to the ground, according to eye-witnesses to the accident.
With other workmen, under the direction of E. L. Spangh, foreman, and Calvin Stake, chief linemen for the Orange, Lee, Light and Water company, Turner was working about four miles west of Orange on the line which supplies the Orange oil field with current.
After the accident, Turner was rushed to the Frances Ann Lutz hospital, but all efforts to revive him failed. Except for a seared place on the right arm, Turner's body is apparently unharmed.
Surviving the deceased are his widow, a son 15 years old, of Orange; and his father, who lives in Beaumont.

WHAT HAVE YOU FOR THE RED CROSS TO MEET THIS BIG NEED?

Now that you have discarded a suit of clothes and perhaps your old shoes after buying your Easter outfit stop and consider this:
The Red Cross today received an emergency call for children's shoes, trousseaus and underclothes.
"They need them very badly and we will appreciate anything that can be done to help us along," said Mrs. Frank Imhoff, chairman of this division of the work.
If you have anything in the way of old clothes, shoes or underclothes call the Red Cross and they will see that they are taken care of at once. If you can deliver them to the Red Cross but so much the better. But in any event, whether you can deliver them yourself or not, call the Red Cross.

LIGHTNING JINX OIL MEN TOPIC

Settles On Earth Tanks After Steel Ones Destroyed
Has the lightning jinx which wiped out every one of the steel tanks on the Gulf pipe line's tank farm at El Vista, settled on the 500,000 barrel underground tanks built on the site after all the steel tanks had been destroyed?
Oil men here are putting this question today, following the destruction of one of the big earthen tanks at El Vista Thursday, after lightning had set fire to approximately 100,000 barrels of oil stored in it.
When the weather cleared late Thursday afternoon, scores of Port Arthurians motored out to the scene of the tank fire to watch the burning oil at close range, and throughout the night the sky northwest of the city was red with the glow from the burning oil.
Numbers of oilfield workers were rushed to the scene of the burning tank shortly after lightning ignited it at 2:30 Thursday afternoon and began digging a trench between the tank and another one not far away to prevent the burning oil from spreading and firing the other tank when the burning oil boiled over the dirt rim.
The oil in the tank fired by lightning was a total loss, but none of the other tanks in the field, all underground structures of 500,000 barrels capacity, caught, officials of the Gulf company reported.

NAME DONAHOE PALL BEARERS

Funeral Services to Be Held Sunday at Home
Funeral services for P. T. Donahoe, 52, prominent in business, and shipping circles and Masonic organizations in Port Arthur will be conducted Sunday afternoon at 1:30 from the residence, 732 Stuart boulevard, with Rev. W. A. Cunningham, pastor of First Congregational church, Rev. W. E. Blackstock, pastor of First Methodist church, and members of Cosmopolitan Lodge, No. 872, officiating.
Full Masonic Honors
Attended by an escort from the Port Arthur Knight Templars lodge, and Knight Templars from the Beaumont lodge, where Donahoe held a membership until the organization of Lodge No. 73, in Port Arthur, the body will be taken to Beaumont, where burial will be made in Magnolia cemetery, under the direction of J. E. Grauninger, undertaker, with full Masonic honors accorded at the grave.
The active pall bearers selected are all past masters of Cosmopolitan Lodge No. 872, and are as follows:
A. G. Evans, Earl Vinson, W. A. Young, Herbert Henderson, John W. Tryon, and O. A. Heid; the first 10 of the honorary pall bearers named are members of the 38th district court grand jury, of which Donahoe was a member at the time of his death, and are as follows:
H. A. McDonald, T. H. Hunter, H. B. Funchess, Jim Goodwin, George A. Myers, H. E. Triplett, H. A. Thompson, J. T. McLaugh, H. E. McBrille and Homer French; and A. N. Pekkham, E. M. Black, George E. Stovall, M. B. Wood, J. P. Logan, Gene Gifford, Dr. A. R. Autrey and Dr. Pat Reed.
Templars to Be in Full Dress
Members of Knight Templars Lodge No. 73, will attend the services wearing their full dress uniforms, and they are requested to meet at their hall Sunday at noon. The members of Cosmopolitan Lodge No. 872, are requested to assemble at their hall at 12:30 p. m. Sunday, and with the Knight Templars, go to the funeral services in a body.
Officers of the Masonic orders who will participate in the funeral services are: A. C. Miles, worshipful master; E. N. Cochran, senior warden; J. J. Carroll, junior warden; E. P. Tucker, treasurer; H. P. McLaugh, secretary; J. H. Hill, senior deacon; H. M. Huber, junior deacon; Perry Pace, clerk; Charles R. Stevenson, marshal; R. W. Freeman, senior steward, and W. A. Evans, junior steward.

REITERATES HE IS INNOCENT AS THE NOOSE IS FIXED

Arizona Governor Denies Commutation
DEAD IN 12 MINUTES
Was Also Convicted of Murder of Beaumont Sheriff
FLORENCE, Ariz., April 13.—Paul V. Hadley, convicted in Tucson of the murder of Mrs. Anna Johnson, on the desert west of Yuma in 1921, was hanged in the state penitentiary here today.
Hadley, an escaped convict from Oklahoma and formerly of Beaumont, Texas, maintained his innocence of the murder to the end.
"Governor Hunt denied a last-minute appeal declaring that he knew of no reason why Hadley should not pay the supreme penalty," Denies Clemency.
Former Governor Campbell had denied several pleas for clemency and the board of pardons had also refused to recommend it. Nevertheless it was held practically to the end that Governor Hunt intended to commute the sentence to life imprisonment, as he had done in the case of several murderers and his final refusal to intervene came as a surprise.
Hadley, an escaped life-terminer from the Oklahoma state penitentiary, was convicted of murdering Mrs. Johnson during an automobile trip over the Arizona desert in November, 1921. In the group of 38 persons who witnessed the hanging was Peter Johnson, husband of the slain woman. Johnson, himself severely wounded at the time his wife was killed, was the state's principal witness in Hadley's two trials.
Hadley related the circumstances of the death of Mrs. Johnson, told his version of the story of an attack by bandits and an assault upon himself, and finally his own perplexity when arrested the following morning.
"Peter Johnson, my husband, I do not hold a vengeful spirit against. If I believed a man had killed my wife I would be just as vengeful. But Mr. Johnson has been misguided from the start and has been made to believe me guilty without actually knowing that I was."

200 KILLED IN TRIPOLI RIOTS

Italians and Hillmen Mix Near Antant
BENGHAZI, Tripoli, April 13.—Two hundred rebels were killed in one day of fighting between Italian troops and hill tribes near here, according to reports today.
The Italian garrison swept down on an armed camp at Garlat on April 11 and killed forces according to word reaching here. The fleeing rebels were pursued to Antant, where they were reinforced and made a desperate stand.
Armored cars, however, routed them from their stronghold, and they were mowed down by rapid fire guns.

200 KILLED IN TRIPOLI RIOTS

Italians and Hillmen Mix Near Antant
BENGHAZI, Tripoli, April 13.—Two hundred rebels were killed in one day of fighting between Italian troops and hill tribes near here, according to reports today.
The Italian garrison swept down on an armed camp at Garlat on April 11 and killed forces according to word reaching here. The fleeing rebels were pursued to Antant, where they were reinforced and made a desperate stand.
Armored cars, however, routed them from their stronghold, and they were mowed down by rapid fire guns.

Hard Work and Not Curse of Tut Brought Death, Says Doc

SAN FRANCISCO, April 13.—The curse of hard work and not the curse of Tut-Ankh-Amen's gods has brought death to the excavations of the tomb of the ancient pharaoh, according to Dr. Raoul Donahoe, president of the Archaeological Society of America.
"The curse of hard work in the climate of Egypt is what is attacking the expedition to the tomb," he declared.
Talk of ancient Egyptian curses, superstitions, the soul of King Tut-Ankh-Amen and such things is ridiculous.
Two Port Arthurians are blaming Friday the thirteenth for putting them in beds in Mary Gates hospital, and authorities at the institution report, L. C. Lyons, 241 Third street, and Haskell Penlarbis, 1015 Procter street, victims of a still flesh at a local refinery about noon today, both painfully but not seriously burned, fire the men.

Twister Kills 2 at LA FOURCH Crossing

TULHOE, La., April 13.—Two were killed, several persons injured and considerable property damage done by a tornado which struck the village of La Fourch Crossing today, according to reports reaching here.
The tornado, according to reports, cut a path of 200 yards wide through the little village, which has a population of approximately 2,000 people.
The victims of the twister were a man and a woman, who were killed, and a child, who was injured. The man was a farmer, and the woman was a housewife. The child was a young girl, who was killed. The property damage was considerable, and the village was left in a state of confusion.

NEGRO ESCAPES

Posse Fails to Find Slayer of White Farmer
LOCKHART, Texas, April 13.—No reports have as yet been received from a posse of sheriff's deputies scouring the countryside for Walter Roberts, 31, negro, who is alleged to have brutally murdered (Gip Twint), 21, farmer, of near here.
Twint was fired upon with a shotgun at close range when he went to the negro's home on business. Although the charge tore away his left arm, the youth chased his assailant for 100 yards. He then made his way unaided to his home a mile away, dying a few hours later.

NEGRO ESCAPES

Posse Fails to Find Slayer of White Farmer
LOCKHART, Texas, April 13.—No reports have as yet been received from a posse of sheriff's deputies scouring the countryside for Walter Roberts, 31, negro, who is alleged to have brutally murdered (Gip Twint), 21, farmer, of near here.
Twint was fired upon with a shotgun at close range when he went to the negro's home on business. Although the charge tore away his left arm, the youth chased his assailant for 100 yards. He then made his way unaided to his home a mile away, dying a few hours later.

NEGRO ESCAPES

Posse Fails to Find Slayer of White Farmer
LOCKHART, Texas, April 13.—No reports have as yet been received from a posse of sheriff's deputies scouring the countryside for Walter Roberts, 31, negro, who is alleged to have brutally murdered (Gip Twint), 21, farmer, of near here.
Twint was fired upon with a shotgun at close range when he went to the negro's home on business. Although the charge tore away his left arm, the youth chased his assailant for 100 yards. He then made his way unaided to his home a mile away, dying a few hours later.

NEGRO ESCAPES

Posse Fails to Find Slayer of White Farmer
LOCKHART, Texas, April 13.—No reports have as yet been received from a posse of sheriff's deputies scouring the countryside for Walter Roberts, 31, negro, who is alleged to have brutally murdered (Gip Twint), 21, farmer, of near here.
Twint was fired upon with a shotgun at close range when he went to the negro's home on business. Although the charge tore away his left arm, the youth chased his assailant for 100 yards. He then made his way unaided to his home a mile away, dying a few hours later.

Cloudy

LOCAL FORECAST: Tonight and tomorrow: partly cloudy, not much change in temperature.
WIND ON TEXAS COAST: Light moderate westerly to southwest, maximum temperature 61, minimum temperature 51, precipitation 1/4 inch.
Year ago today: Maximum temperature 71, minimum temperature 61, sunset this evening 6:45 p. m. Sunrise tomorrow 5:50 a. m.
TIDE RECORD
Time of high and low water at Sabine Pass Light under normal conditions on Saturday, April 14, taken on tables prepared by the U. S. hydrographic office:
High tide ..... 3:01 a. m. 3:04 p. m.
Low tide ..... 2:10 a. m. 9:07 p. m.

Cloudy

LOCAL FORECAST: Tonight and tomorrow: partly cloudy, not much change in temperature.
WIND ON TEXAS COAST: Light moderate westerly to southwest, maximum temperature 61, minimum temperature 51, precipitation 1/4 inch.
Year ago today: Maximum temperature 71, minimum temperature 61, sunset this evening 6:45 p. m. Sunrise tomorrow 5:50 a. m.
TIDE RECORD
Time of high and low water at Sabine Pass Light under normal conditions on Saturday, April 14, taken on tables prepared by the U. S. hydrographic office:
High tide ..... 3:01 a. m. 3:04 p. m.
Low tide ..... 2:10 a. m. 9:07 p. m.

Cloudy

LOCAL FORECAST: Tonight and tomorrow: partly cloudy, not much change in temperature.
WIND ON TEXAS COAST: Light moderate westerly to southwest, maximum temperature 61, minimum temperature 51, precipitation 1/4 inch.
Year ago today: Maximum temperature 71, minimum temperature 61, sunset this evening 6:45 p. m. Sunrise tomorrow 5:50 a. m.
TIDE RECORD
Time of high and low water at Sabine Pass Light under normal conditions on Saturday, April 14, taken on tables prepared by the U. S. hydrographic office:
High tide ..... 3:01 a. m. 3:04 p. m.
Low tide ..... 2:10 a. m. 9:07 p. m.

Cloudy

LOCAL FORECAST: Tonight and tomorrow: partly cloudy, not much change in temperature.
WIND ON TEXAS COAST: Light moderate westerly to southwest, maximum temperature 61, minimum temperature 51, precipitation 1/4 inch.
Year ago today: Maximum temperature 71, minimum temperature 61, sunset this evening 6:45 p. m. Sunrise tomorrow 5:50 a. m.
TIDE RECORD
Time of high and low water at Sabine Pass Light under normal conditions on Saturday, April 14, taken on tables prepared by the U. S. hydrographic office:
High tide ..... 3:01 a. m. 3:04 p. m.
Low tide ..... 2:10 a. m. 9:07 p. m.

Cloudy

LOCAL FORECAST: Tonight and tomorrow: partly cloudy, not much change in temperature.
WIND ON TEXAS COAST: Light moderate westerly to southwest, maximum temperature 61, minimum temperature 51, precipitation 1/4 inch.
Year ago today: Maximum temperature 71, minimum temperature 61, sunset this evening 6:45 p. m. Sunrise tomorrow 5:50 a. m.
TIDE RECORD
Time of high and low water at Sabine Pass Light under normal conditions on Saturday, April 14, taken on tables prepared by the U. S. hydrographic office:
High tide ..... 3:01 a. m. 3:04 p. m.
Low tide ..... 2:10 a. m. 9:07 p. m.

Cloudy

LOCAL FORECAST: Tonight and tomorrow: partly cloudy, not much change in temperature.
WIND ON TEXAS COAST: Light moderate westerly to southwest, maximum temperature 61, minimum temperature 51, precipitation 1/4 inch.
Year ago today: Maximum temperature 71, minimum temperature 61, sunset this evening 6:45 p. m. Sunrise tomorrow 5:50 a. m.
TIDE RECORD
Time of high and low water at Sabine Pass Light under normal conditions on Saturday, April 14, taken on tables prepared by the U. S. hydrographic office:
High tide ..... 3:01 a. m. 3:04 p. m.
Low tide ..... 2:10 a. m. 9:07 p. m.

Cloudy

LOCAL FORECAST: Tonight and tomorrow: partly cloudy, not much change in temperature.
WIND ON TEXAS COAST: Light moderate westerly to southwest, maximum temperature 61, minimum temperature 51, precipitation 1/4 inch.
Year ago today: Maximum temperature 71, minimum temperature 61, sunset this evening 6:45 p. m. Sunrise tomorrow 5:50 a. m.
TIDE RECORD
Time of high and low water at Sabine Pass Light under normal conditions on Saturday, April 14, taken on tables prepared by the U. S. hydrographic office:
High tide ..... 3:01 a. m. 3:04 p. m.
Low tide ..... 2:10 a. m. 9:07 p. m.

Cloudy

LOCAL FORECAST: Tonight and tomorrow: partly cloudy, not much change in temperature.
WIND ON TEXAS COAST: Light moderate westerly to southwest, maximum temperature 61, minimum temperature 51, precipitation 1/4 inch.
Year ago today: Maximum temperature 71, minimum temperature 61, sunset this evening 6:45 p. m. Sunrise tomorrow 5:50 a. m.
TIDE RECORD
Time of high and low water at Sabine Pass Light under normal conditions on Saturday, April 14, taken on tables prepared by the U. S. hydrographic office:
High tide ..... 3:01 a. m. 3:04 p. m.
Low tide ..... 2:10 a. m. 9:07 p. m.

THE GUMPS—A MORSEL FOR THE PROWLERS

DOINGS OF THE DUFFS

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

SALESMAN SAM

THE OLD HOME TOWN

BY STANLEY OUR BOARDING HOUSE

BY AHERN

TINTED TRAVELS

Sketches by L. W. Rader. Visions by Hal Cochran. Color the picture with paint or crayons.

The monster plants at Sheffield Keep furnaces aroar— Its steel and iron and cutlery The town is noted for—

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

"Is the Cut Out Lady in?" Asked Nancy

"Let's take a heart to the Cut Out Lady," said Nancy. "Yes, let's," echoed Nick. So he reached up and pulled another flat sugar heart from the tree on the front island.

They read the verse on it and it said: "I love you." That's a nice verse so I'll put it in my apron pocket," said Nancy. "Now we'd better be going." So they got into their snail boat with the silver spoons for oars and rowed back to the shore of the custard lake with the party sheds on the shore and started up Sugar Loaf Hill.

We must be nearly there," said Nancy. The Cut Out Lady's house can't be far away now. We've been traveling for ever and ever so long. And then at that very minute they saw it. It was made of cardboard and all the flowers and trees were cutouts. Over the door was a sign which said "Mending" in neat letters. The sign was in neat letters, not the mending.

On the doorknob was the coconut cat, asleep. No doubt his mistress had stuck new coconut all over him after the fight, for he looked as good as new. Not a bit of his sponge cake body showed anywhere.

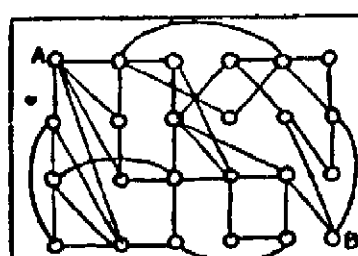

Suddenly he opened his eyes and sat up. "Mew, mew," he said. "Who are you and what do you want?"

Is the Cut Out Lady in?" asked Nancy. "Yes, here I am," said the Cut Out Lady and she appeared in the doorway— sideways, of course— for, having only one side and no thick neck, she wished to show her best side to the world. In her hand she held a needle. No doubt she was at that very minute mending the Gingersbread Man's clothes.

She thought of the buttons and wondered how she was doing them. "May we come in?" she asked. "We want to talk to you."

"Certainly," said the Cut Out Lady, kindly. "But I can't offer you a chair. They are only cutouts."

A PUZZLE A DAY

In the diagram shown above, a course may be traced from A to B, along the lines between the circles, that will touch each circle once. Each line must be followed from circle to circle. It is not permissible to turn where two lines cross. Can you trace the course?

Yesterday's answer: FIVE. The word "five" is composed of four letters. If F and E (two letters) are removed, IV (Roman numeral four) will remain. Take away the I, which leaves V (five). Replace the FIF and you will still have FIVE.

School Interurban Hits Milk Car; One May Die

AKRON, Ohio, April 13—One person was perhaps fatally injured and at least two others were hurt seriously when a special Akron-Cleveland interurban car crashed into a milk car and girl students from Central High near here today.

The car was carrying forty boys school here to Cleveland where they were to participate in a music meeting. "Certainly," said the Cut Out Lady, kindly. "But I can't offer you a chair. They are only cutouts."

There's a STRAW HAT

In our assortments that looks good to you and looks good on you.

Saturday is the day for you to find it. That will be an easy matter, for every style, width of brim or height of crown is here, plain and fancy bands, natural colors and darker.

Let us fit you in the straw that was meant for you.

$3 $4 $5 $6

G. W. Imhoff & Co.

Where Society Brand Clothes Are Sold

Royalty Praises Wisconsin Woman For Her Expert Needlework—Makes Fine Lace

OSHKOSH, Wis., April 13.—Lace-making in this country, who writes, requires an year's work—here's your challenge.

It comes from Mrs. Susanna Van Valkenberg of this city. And it's this:

Can you beat her needle-point lace work not only in excellence, but in popularity?

To show how far her competitors in such a task would have to go to beat her, Mrs. Van Valkenberg produced letters from Mrs. Warren O. Harding and from European royalty praising her fine needlework. And in spite of her 85 years, she is still able to make lace of exquisite fineness.

Mrs. Van Valkenberg is now making a lace portrait of George Washington.

A lifetime of service, including the years which she spent as a Civil War nurse, have not kept her from remaining a young, old lady both physically and mentally.

MRS. VAN VALKENBERG

BELIEVE MISSING MATE DROWNED

Geneva Kathleen Sails With-out Him

BEAUMONT, Texas, April 13.—Search for C. H. Duval, 31, missing mate of the schooner Geneva Kathleen, which sailed for Port Au Prince Wednesday without the officer, continued here today without result. One theory advanced is that Duval fell overboard and drowned as he was returning to the ship the night before the vessel sailed.

Duval was last seen Tuesday night about 9 o'clock when he requested shore leave from Captain C. I. McNeil, master of the vessel. It is reported by H. S. L'Hommedieu, president of the Beaumont Forwarding company, who also discredits the theory that the missing mate deserted the Geneva Kathleen.

Let us fill your prescriptions. College Pharmacy, 1501 Fryer. Phone 10 and 2146.—adv.

Broadway Late Hour Resort Closes Doors

NEW YORK, April 13.—The Little club, one of the best known late hour resorts of the great white way, closed its doors Sunday. Bad business was given as the reason, but it is taken as significant that the restaurant, like Stanley's, which closed last week, was named in actions brought in federal court March 20 to close those places, along with Knickerbocker grill, for a year, on the ground they were nuisances under the Volstead act.

The Little club was looked on for years by Broadway night owls as the place of last resort. When the orchestra in other places quit their huring strains, guests made their way to the Little club.

There jazz music was in full blast as long as patrons would remain, until the police began to clamp down the lid on night resorts. This and prohibition, it is admitted, are responsible for the closing.

POISONOUS PILLS FATAL TO 2-YEAR-OLD CHILD

FOND DU LAC, April 13.—Poisonous pills, obtained without the knowledge of Arlin Francis Lepine, 25-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Lepine, Saturday. When discovered the boy held one small pill in his hand. He died before medical aid arrived.

BLAST KILLS MINER

BENNETT, Mich., April 13.—A premature explosion at Eureka mine of Oulelay, Morton & Co. property at Ramsay, killed Charles Sullivan, 26, Isaac Louma and Karl Heitta escaped with minor injuries. Twenty-two holes had been drilled for blasting purposes and as Sullivan was charging the last hole the first charge exploded.

WONDER IF THIS MAN WOULD CAST A SHADOW?

WATERLOO, Iowa, April 13.—Charles Hanson, under sentence of 10 years for robbery and assault, escaped from jail here Monday by squeezing through a window opening 7 1/2 inches wide and dropping to an alley.

UGLY GANDER ATTACKS TWO-YEAR-OLD CHILD

REEDSBURG, April 13.—The 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lankey, who reside near Wonesoma, was attacked by a large gander and severely bitten and bruised before the bird could be driven away. The little fellow attempted to drive it about the yard with a cornstalk. The gander, an unusually large bird, had long been ugly.

People who object to little boys fighting should not send them to school in red neckties.

Water Blisters on Hands or Feet will disappear after a few applications of Imperial Eczema Remedy.

All druggists are authorized to refund your money if it fails.—adv.

Fixtures of beauty

We have on hand a few lighting fixtures which we are closing out at very attractive prices.

We invite you to call and investigate.

ELECTRIC SUPPLY CO. TONNILLIERS. ALL ELECTRICAL REPAIRS. 1501 FRYER.

First With the New Straws for '23
$3 $4 $5

JUST out of the packing boxes—as fresh as a lake breeze—these new Straws of ours make their bow. In braid, in hand and in block they offer you more real value than you have a right to expect. Your Hat is here—ready for a summer of comfort.

Haber's
INC.

The Home of Hart Schaffner and Marx Clothes

Deutser
NEW SHOE DEPARTMENT

A hearty welcome awaits you in our new shoe department. Featuring women's, misses', children's and boys' shoes. A corps of expert shoe fitters to fit you and a wonderful stock to select from.

Women's Footwear Presents Attractive New Modes

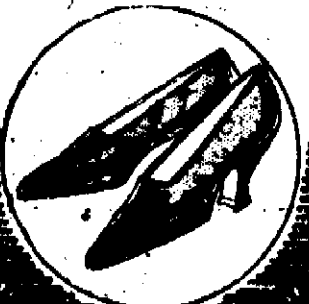

Spring Footwear, in a bewildering array of new styles is ready to equip any woman with attractive shoes for any event. Here are oxfords smartly fashioned in sports and dress styles, strapped slippers or small-tongued colonials, all of which demonstrate they are the season's most fashionable shoes in their most perfect interpretations.

Ladies' Values
$4.50 to $8

Children's Spring Footwear

It is natural that little feet should drag a bit with the coming of warmer days—unless, of course, they are wearing lighter shoes. Low shoes for children include new styles as well as the old favorites. Lasts are those hygienic comfort-giving ones so necessary to growing feet. We give especial care to fitting of all children's shoes.

Misses' and Children's Values
$1.25 to $4

An Atmosphere of Distinction

Sponsors the Opening of Our

New Millinery Department

Styles from New York's foremost creators of fashionable millinery, such makers as Rawak, Curtis, Banks, Rosil, Ufland and the famous Andrea Models.

Prices Varying from $5 to $27.50

As an Introductory Offer Saturday

We Present a Special Collection

Of New Summer Models at $10.00

Home of the Andrea Hat

Deutser

NEWSPAPERARCHIVE

COVINGTON IN RACE FOR CHIEF

Transfer Man Issues His Statement

Carrying his campaign for the office of chief of police directly to the people of Port Arthur, W. W. Covington, who announced for this office today, sets forth in a statement of his candidacy that he has no political leader or "bosses" to elect him.

Without seeking favor from anyone and standing upon his record of eight years a citizen of Port Arthur, part of which time he was employed at the Gulf Refining company, and lately in transfer business for himself, he says, Covington sets forth that he has an insight into the need of the people, and stands for the enforcement of the law.

Covington's statement in full is as follows:

"In presenting my name before the citizenship of Port Arthur as a candidate for the office of chief of police, I have a few statements to make to you. I am a native Texan, reared in Falls county. For the past eight years I have made this city my home; five years of this time I was an employee of the Gulf Refining company. For the past three years I have been engaged in the transfer business.

"My work and business has brought me in contact with various parts of the city and enterprise and has given me an insight into the need of the people. I have never asked for an office before, but my past record as a citizen is open for investigation and inspection.

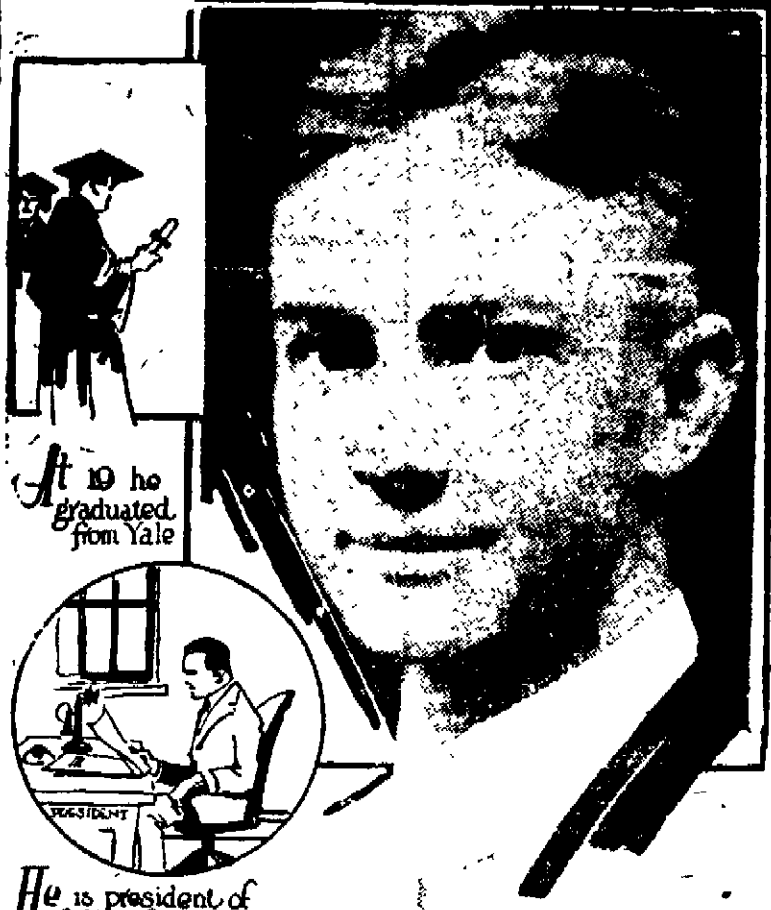

"I stand for the enforcement of the law and will ensure you I will give the very best there is in me that you may enjoy the privilege of our laws. I want the good will of everybody, but I can truthfully say I am not asking any favors of those who rely upon law violation as a means of support. I am under no obligations to any of them and will state I never intend to be.

"I have no political leader or 'bosses' to elect me. I desire to carry my claim direct to the people themselves. I purpose to sever all present connection with the transfer business in order to devote my full time and effort to the office which I seek.

"I ask the people to give me a careful consideration and after doing so, if you see fit to give me your support and influence it will be greatly appreciated. I feel and trust that you will never have a regret in doing so."

W. W. COVINGTON.

HERE'S YOUNG MAN OF ONLY 23, WHO BOASTS BEING COLLEGE PRESIDENT

He is president of Ogden College.

CHARLES E. WHITTLE

BROWNSVILLE, Ky., April 12.—Ask the folks in this little county seat, 20 miles from a railroad and 10 miles from Mammoth Cave, about who's who and they will talk to you of Charles E. Whittle.

Charles is the town's celebrity. He has just turned 23, and is president of Ogden College in historic Bowling Green, K. A.

If there is a younger president of a standard college, Brownsville has never heard of him.

Ten years ago Charles was one of the village boys in short pants and bare feet. He could "shimmy" up the steepest apple tree and he knew the shortest route to every nearby patch.

At 13 he had never seen a railroad train, but he knew about all there was to learn in the one-room grade school. It was 20 miles to the nearest high school or college. So Charles' mother—his father had died when Charles was 12—took him to Bowling Green.

A. B. at 18.

And at 18 Charles got his A. B. degree from Ogden College.

A year later he was graduated from Yale. Meanwhile he had been commissioned a lieutenant in the army.

When he was made a college president a few weeks ago, the name folks decided it was the best record they had heard of. But—

"I don't think I have done much," Charles says with his boyish smile. "I did not ask the college board for this job. I had built up quite a little law practice at Brownsville. But now I think I'll stay on here for a while."

"Age of Youth"

"Did you ever stop to think that it is said,

Morning Glory Butter is delicious because it is churned fresh every day from only the richest of pure cream and seasoned to a uniform goodness. Fine in texture, color and flavor.

Old fashioned, plain bread and good creamery butter have always been and always will be the staff of life. The combination is unmatched.

MORNING GLORY Creamery Butter

Aristocrat of the Dining Table

GOOD AND ROSS ARE DENIED BAIL

Alleged Slayers of Two Say They Will Appeal

SEMINOLE, Texas, April 12.—Bail was denied Milt Good and Tom Ross, gentlemen charged with the murder of H. L. Roberson and W. D. Allison, inspectors for the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers' Association, at a hearing held yesterday on habeas corpus proceedings instituted by attorneys for the former.

Good and Ross gave notice that they would carry their appeal for bail to the court of criminal appeals. Roberson and Allison were killed while sitting in a lobby of a hotel here on the night of April 1.

Statue of King Made 5,200 Years Ago is Found in Mesopotamia

PHILADELPHIA, April 12.—A statue 5,200 years old has been unearthed in Mesopotamia by the joint expedition of the University of Pennsylvania and the British museum, according to a report received Thursday by Dr. George B. Gordon, director of the university museum. The report said the statue was found while unearthing the Ziggurat gate on the site of Ur of the Chaldees.

It is a diorite statue of Enannatum, king of Lagash, who reigned in 3200 B. C. and was said to be one of the oldest in existence.

Woman in Enoch Arden Case is Neutral Until Her Legal Husband Decided

ELYRIA, Ohio, April 12.—William R. Tompkins, steel worker, is in a quandary.

He has received word from his wife, now in Indianapolis, that her first husband, reported killed in action during the World war, and for whose supposed death she has been collecting government insurance, has returned to her.

The woman in his Enoch Arden case announced her intention of returning to Elyria. However, according to reports, she will remain neutral until she is informed legally as to whether she shall live with her first or her second husband.

FIRE ON JAP FREIGHTER NOW UNDER CONTROL

SAN PEDRO, Cal., April 12.—Wireless messages received today from the Japanese freighter Fuji Maru indicated the fire which two days ago threatened the vessel with destruction is now under control. The boat, which is carrying a cargo of cotton from Galveston, Texas, to Japan, is expected to call here today for fuel.

WOMEN SERVED IN BATTLE IN REVOLUTION AND CIVIL WARS, U. S. RECORDS SHOW

One Who Fought With the Union Army Concealed Her Sex Until Hurt in An Auto Accident

WASHINGTON, April 12.—The unique records of two women serving as private soldiers, one throughout the Revolutionary war and another the Civil war, fighting on the battlefield and being wounded, have just been discovered in the files of the department of the interior pension bureau.

Both women succeeded in hiding their sex from the other soldiers and the fact that they were women was disclosed only when they were awarded pensions by the government. Their names are Deborah Gannett and "Albert" D. Cashier or Hodges and they are the only women in American history who were paid pensions by the United States for actual military service.

The first of these women warriors was Deborah Gannett of Massachusetts. She enlisted April, 1781, in the Massachusetts regiment commanded by Col. Henry Jackson, under the assumed name of Robert Skirreless, and served until November, 1782, as a private soldier, when she was honorably discharged. She fought at the battle of Tarrytown, where she was wounded, and was in the ranks when Lord Cornwallis was captured by the revolutionary troops. Her real identity was revealed after the war and in 1838 congress passed a special bill for the relief of her heirs, awarding them a pension in which she was described as "Deborah Gannett, a soldier of the revolution."

The second woman was Albert D. J. Cashier, whose real name was Hodges, but whose Christian name was never revealed. She enlisted as a private in Company G, Ninety-fifth Illinois infantry, in August, 1862, and was mustered out in August, 1865. At the time she joined the army she was 19 years old, with blue eyes and auburn hair. She gave her occupation as a farmer and her residence as Belvidere, Ill.

During the war she went through the entire campaign with the Ninety-fifth Illinois infantry, was in the engagements leading to the fall of Vicksburg, including the charge of the troops against the besieged city. She also participated in the Jackson and East Meridian raids, the Red river expedition, capture of Fort de Russy and the battles of Old River, Cloutier, Mansura and Yellow Bayou. In April, 1864, she was in the thickest of the fight of Guntown, Miss., where the regiment lost heavily in killed and wounded.

Later she participated in the battle of Nashville and the pursuit of General Hood's defeated army and was at Franklin, Columbia, Pulaski, Lawrenceburg and Eastport.

After being discharged she returned to Illinois and worked on a farm, herding cattle. Later she was awarded a pension and became an inmate of the soldiers' home at Quincy, Ill., and remained there except for intervals when she engaged in labor on farms. It was on one of these occasions that she was struck by an automobile and suffered a fractured leg. It was then, while she was receiving surgical attention, that her secret was discovered. She pleaded with the physicians not to reveal her sex and begged to be returned to the soldiers' home at Quincy. She died at Watertown, Ill., in 1912.

An investigation of her early life conducted by the pension bureau resulted in the discovery that she was born in Clogher Head, Ireland, where she had a twin brother. Together they had herded sheep for an uncle and she dressed like her brother, in male attire, because she could work better. On the death of her father her mother married a man named Cashier and they emigrated to America. The girl drifted to Illinois, where she followed the occupation of cattle herding and continued to masquerade as a boy.

Half of Two Blocks Got the 'Final Coat'

Excavation on Waco avenue between Procter and Fifth street started today, and with continued fair weather, concrete will be poured on the block Saturday. A. P. Hollins, consulting engineer, said today. The paving will include the intersection of Fifth street and Waco avenue.

Concrete has been poured on one side of Houston avenue between Sixteenth and Seventeenth street, and part of the block between Eighteenth and Nineteenth, on Houston avenue, the consulting engineer said.

East Seventh street from Houston avenue to Shreveport avenue, with the exception of the intersection of Dallas avenue, is ready for asphalt topping, and on West Seventh street, beyond the Kansas City southern railroad crossing, to the city limits, the thoroughfare is ready for asphalt, Hollins said.

WOMEN SPEND YEAR OF LIFE AT MIRROR

CHICAGO, April 12.—A woman spends about a year and nine months in her life to be beautiful, according to a report of the Northwestern Y. W. C. A. Saturday.

The report said that co-eds spend about 45 minutes daily "priming."

Figuring that the average girl starts "priming" at 15 and lives to be 70, the Y. W. C. A. estimates the total time before a mirror is about 15,000 hours, or 1.7 years.

Don't let that rash spread

Apply a little Resinol Ointment to the first bit of itching rash or patch of eczema and check it before it develops into a serious or stubborn skin trouble. It's amazing how quickly this soothing ointment stops itching, reduces inflammation and restores the skin to its normal healthy condition.

Your druggist sells the Resinol products.

Resinol

Kansas City Southern Railway

Taxes Have Increased
2229.8%
Over 1900

The "certainty" of taxes applies in the operation of railroads just as in that of any other business enterprise. Taxes are expenses over which no management has any control.

But the remarkable feature of the tax payments made by the Kansas City Southern Railway is not their regular recurrence but their amazing increase in amounts.

Looking back over our records for the past twenty-three years we are astonished at the growth of these inevitable charges. Just examine the figures below showing our net earnings and our taxes since 1900:

Year—	Net Earnings	Taxes
1900	$ 738,877	$ 54,143
1905	1,005,309	153,180
1910	3,330,067	343,773
1915	3,357,075	374,316
1920	4,443,562	967,965
1921	3,804,146	1,072,893
1922	3,277,730	1,315,076

You will notice our taxes were 2229.8% greater last year per mile of road than they were in 1900!

Our 1922 taxes were practically one-fourth as much as our net earnings.

Computed by the mile, our taxes in 1900 averaged 50¢. They have increased until in 1922 they reached the formidable average of $1.561.

What may these taxes be next year and the year after next? Who knows?

The tax situation with the Kansas City Southern Railway constitutes only one of the many problems confronting the management of this railroad.

The interests of the country through which a railroad runs are very closely allied with those of the railroad itself.

In certain towns, cities and counties the Kansas City Southern is the largest investor and the heaviest taxpayer. In many cases it contributes more toward the maintenance of roads, schools and local government than any other one interest. Railroads, and the communities they serve are practically indispensable to one another. Their interests are inseparable. The welfare of one directly affects the welfare of the other. If a community prospers the railroad does more business. If the railroad prospers there is more employment and greater advancement.

Everyone realizes all this when he stops to think about it. But, generally very little thought is given this subject.

People read what railroad antagonists say about rates being excessive and more stringent regulations being necessary, but they seldom view the other side—their own side. We ask the public now to look at the railroad situation in its true light. That's why we publish these facts.

We believe that public opinion, fully informed, can be depended upon to take a fair attitude toward railroads. We have abiding faith that this attitude will be reflected in future legislation, regardless of the efforts of radical leaders.

The Kansas City Southern Railway is endeavoring to supply transportation service of the safest and most satisfactory character. We ask the public's co-operation.

J. A. EDSON,
President.

CONCRETE LAD ON HOUSTON ST.

Half of Two Blocks Got the 'Final Coat'

Excavation on Waco avenue between Procter and Fifth street started today, and with continued fair weather, concrete will be poured on the block Saturday. A. P. Hollins, consulting engineer, said today. The paving will include the intersection of Fifth street and Waco avenue.

Concrete has been poured on one side of Houston avenue between Sixteenth and Seventeenth street, and part of the block between Eighteenth and Nineteenth, on Houston avenue, the consulting engineer said.

East Seventh street from Houston avenue to Shreveport avenue, with the exception of the intersection of Dallas avenue, is ready for asphalt topping, and on West Seventh street, beyond the Kansas City southern railroad crossing, to the city limits, the thoroughfare is ready for asphalt, Hollins said.

Quick Quaker Oats

Quick Quaker Oats is the style—regular and Quick Quaker Oats have that super-duper—do have that won the world. Both are baked from queen grains only—just the rich, plump, luscious oats.

But in Quick Quaker the oats are cut before baking. They are rolled very thin and partly cooked. So the flakes are tender and thinner—that is all. And those small thin flakes cook quickly.

Quick Quaker cooks in 3 to 5 minutes. It is the quickest cooking oats in the world.

In those two ways Quick Quaker Oats excel. Say which you want, regular or Quick. But if you love flavor, insist on the Quick brand.

Special—
New Sport Hats
$4.95

Those new Ombre shadings in high favor for Spring

Of silk crepe are these sport hats in ombre shadings—in dominating colors of jade, rose, yellow, clover, oakwood, copen and orange.

Small touches of beads, flowers and bits of embroidery add to their beauty. Special $4.95.

- Cross-Stitch $3.98
The new lattice woven woolen in all colors with pretty stripes. 36 inch, for capes, sweaters and sport suits. $3.98 yard.
- French Epongee 98c
Imported French epongee of the 39 inch width, solid colors.
- Silk Crepes $2.98
Printed silk crepe de chine, georgette and foulard, 36 inch, various designs. $2.98 yard.
- $1.25 Linen 98c
Unwashable linen, 36 inch width in every color wanted, a special.
- $1.25 Crepes 98c
Printed and dotted creps, 36 inch, all colors, a special.
- 98c Ratines 75c
Fancy checked and plaid ratines, 36 inch, special 75c yard.
- $1.98 Epongee $1.69
Imported French epongee checks and fancy color combinations, 36 inch, $1.69 special.
- 35c Kiddy Kloth 25c
32 inch Kiddy Kloth, solid colors and checks, to close out, special 25c yard.

Very New—
Silk Ruffled Gloves
$3 to $2.50

Fancy ruffled and tucked Kayser silk opera gloves, long length, in silver, pongee, beaver and cocoa, priced $3 and $3.50 pair.

Lace Mittens $1.50

Very new, silk lace mittens, long length, in white and beige at $1.50 pair.

Silk Gloves

Kayser silk gloves, in many colors, gauntlet and short lengths, $1 to $3.00 pair.

16 button length, Kayser silk gloves, in gray, mastic, black, white, silver, brown, and beige. $1.75 to $3.00 pair.

$3.50 to $4.50
Spanish Combs $2.98

Main carved and with sets, fan shapes, butterfly shapes and novel shapes, special $2.98.

$1.25 Eardrops 75c
A special lot of $1 and $1.25 eardrops, various shapes, in jade, black, silver and pearl, special 75c.

New Vanities 75c to $1.75
Single and double compact vanities, new creations by Coty and others.

Pepperell Hemstitched Sheets $1.59
$1.59 Pepperell Sheets, and they're hemstitched, special price $1.59. Better get a supply tomorrow.

Goldbergh
MADE IN U.S.A.

"It's Flavor tells the Whole Story"

It is a crime to spoil good coffee by careless making. Make your coffee right and get your money's worth.

Full directions for making in each year of Sunset Coffees, by Phoenix-Jerry Co. Co., Phoenix, Texas.

SUNSET COFFEE

THE PORT ARTHUR NEWS

Published every morning and Sunday morning at 423-425 Fifth Street by the News Publishing Co., Port Arthur, Texas. Mail subscription rates in advance: One year, $9.00; Six months, $4.50; Three months, $2.25. City subscription rates in advance: One year, $7.50; Six months, $3.75; Three months, $1.80. Phone: Editorial department, 48; Circulation, 41; Advertising, 42. Full leased United Press Wire. Newspaper Telegraph Association Service.

YOU AND I

MEDIUMS
Conan Doyle is back for another American lecture tour on behalf of spiritualism, in which he sincerely believes. In London he is said to have convinced Bill, associate editor of the Scientific American, that Doyle has not been "bunked by psychic phenomena. Under test conditions, Bill saw tables jump, heard voices from truncheons, and so on. In his conversion to spiritualism? Apparently, not. He is quoted as attributing the psychic phenomena to "some mysterious force, the source of which has not been discovered." We are surrounded by these forces, more mysterious than radio. Later we'll know all about them, though probably not in our generation. The Scientific American is conducting a contest to hasten discovery. The judges will be able, including Houdini.

SPIRITS
Spiritualists claim they have over 2,000,000 converts in the United States. Possibly they are too enthusiastic. It's a big figure, but means less than one in every fifty Americans. Conan Doyle is being ridiculed by his opposition, but there are few who will disagree with him when he says:
"Doubt as to the future underlies all the social unrest of the world. Man's faith was shaken by the war. There will never be anything right in this world until we get religion right, for religion is the basis for all else. So I seek proof, and by the joining of two, religion will be made secure and placed on a scientific basis."
Right. Faith in the hereafter is what the world needs most.

SUCCESS
W. K. Kellogg, who makes corn flakes and other breakfast food, is interviewed during a motor trip. He tells how, 40 years ago, he was a broom maker in Dallas, with only $500 in the bank. Gradually, by hard work and denial, he got into business for himself. His sales now total 15 million dollars a year and Kellogg is very rich.
Opportunities for poor boys who "have the stuff in them" still are plentiful in America. A career like Kellogg's is well worth publicity, for it stimulates others who are trying to get ahead. It's a good thing we have gigantic successes, to encourage us when we are downhearted.

TAXED
The tariff has been pouring money into Uncle Sam's pockets at the rate of over 400 million dollars a year. Customs receipts in March were over 62 millions. Some figures show that the tariff will collect as high as 700 million dollars in 1923.
Indirectly, of course, Americans are paying it, for without tariff a lot of things would be cheaper. However, the tariff doesn't excite people as much as in the old days. Burdened by taxation, Americans seem to prefer the painless extraction method.

IMPORTS
From foreign countries in 1922, America bought and imported over 2,112 million dollars worth of goods. It may surprise you to learn that our imports from Asia were nearly $27 million dollars, compared with 991 millions from Europe. Our foreign trade future is in the Orient. And we are buying almost as much from Canada and Mexico as from Asia.

SUPERSTITION
Babies still are victims of "harm" in many districts of our country. Dr. Frances Bradley writes in a medical magazine. Strings of beads are placed around baby's neck to ward off evils. Some parents even believe that ticks can be cured by rubbing the spine with the back of a live turtle.
With such ignorance widespread in many sections, it's no wonder some politicians get elected. Elections reflect average superstition.

Tom Sims Says

It isn't so hard to tell which side of the house a small boy resembles. He resembles the outside.

Push makes many a success in life, and his wife does the pushing.

It seems that living is high because things cost so much.

The stingiest man we know of doesn't chew chewing gum, he sucks it.

Exercise develops the arms. Let us have girl postmen.

A nice man is a man who takes his overcoat back to the restaurant where he got it last fall.

The light brigade charged like thunder. So do the sugar men.

Women never thought of smoking 20 or 30 years ago, which is why they didn't do it.

Difference between gloves and banking trunks is two gloves make a pair.

Many parties are given just to get a glass of water in front of the house for people to see.

This tells us she doesn't mind her husband wearing a kimono much, if he wears it from her.

COTTON AND ITS PRODUCERS

"When business men and the people living in cities throughout the United States realize that the farm problem is their problem there will be a change in the type of agriculture and in the problems of handling agriculture. It takes the thinking man or the man who has had calamity to realize that the United States is primarily an agricultural country and that they cannot be prosperous unless agriculture is prosperous. Business men have suddenly awakened to the fact that, in order to have prosperity, they have to help the farmer to become prosperous. The farmer today is making the business man to step out of the way, so they can organize themselves with the same efficiency and business organization that the ordinary industry now has. Nearly every country in the world has had co-operative marketing by the farmer for more than two generations, but the United States is sadly in arrears. In Germany, France, Australia, Italy Switzerland, and Russia, the growers have learned to co-operate in marketing but also in credits and other types of agricultural problems."

Who was the speaker?
Aaron Sapiro, known internationally as the foremost American expert on co-operative marketing. His audience was composed of Dallas business men and farmers. He reminded them that the United States produces two-thirds of the cotton of the world; that cotton is a staple and non-perishable article; that this country should have a commercial monopoly of this high type product but there are several millions of cotton farmers in the southern section of the country a stage two generations behind the rest of the United States.

Aaron Sapiro had his figures and his facts.
In South Carolina, he said, there are families living in one room, children who have never known what it is to wear a pair of shoes, where children know nothing of schools, and life is nothing but gloom and hopelessness. And then the expert made the following indictments of conditions:

"These very people are producing one of the greatest agricultural crops of the world, making millionaires every year of many men in New York, New England and England across the sea. The average family income of one of these cotton farmers is less than $300 a year, including the higher war years for the past ten years. We have been stung to the necessity for the studying of such problems as that. The population is moving the country to the city and the 1920 census showed for the first time that the urban population of the United States was greater than the rural. The young men and women will not stay on the farms because of the lack of entertainment and small pay. Tenantry is increasing all over the United States and in this day we have to recognize the fact that the drift in the country is toward a system of feudal farming. In addition to that the standards of living are going down in the farming districts instead of going up."

These are ugly truths but they should be told.
There is a large army of cotton producers who live from hand to mouth; they live in shacks and the shack walls are bare; they are in debt from one year's end to another; they have but a few of the comforts of life and none of the luxuries; their children are half clad and never shod; thousands never see the inside of a school house and yet the women and children of these tenant farmers produce the fleecy staple that makes millionaires of New Englanders and Old Englanders and the cotton gamblers of the world.

Aaron Sapiro reminded these Texas business men that in California farmers that they would have to make their living on the climate and the tourist until co-operative marketing was shown them.

California farmers were shown that it was useless to try and place their products on the market independently. Then they learned the first great principle—"that to sell something they must organize on the basis of the commodity."

And what happened in California?

The communities organized. The California Fruit Growers association made possible twenty local federations, in twelve districts of the state and now more than 75 per cent of the oranges grown in California are shipped out through Los Angeles and one selling agency handles the business.

California farmers do not have to make their living on the climate and tourists. Almost to a man, they are for co-operative marketing and they are organized almost to a man.

This is what will happen to the cotton growers when they are organized as the fruit growers of California are organized—for self protection, for price fixing, for co-operative marketing and the emancipation of the producer from the thralldom of debt.

There is a bill pending in the Ohio legislature providing a penitentiary sentence of from one to fifteen years for any man found guilty of inducing another man's wife to leave him and for any woman convicted of taking the husband of another woman. Why a penalty? Why not say "good riddance to bad rubbish" and let it go at that?

IS THERE MONEY IN OIL?

Doctor Frederick A. Cook is a man of many parts and many achievements. He was the first Arctic explorer to nail the American flag to the apex of the North Pole; he was the first daring explorer to make the ascent of Mount McKinley; he was one of the first wild catters to break into the mid-continent oil pools and now with 25 others he is accused by the federal authorities of misrepresenting his oil properties and possibilities to foreign investors.

This noted Arctic explorer and mountain climber is at the head of the Petroleum Producing association. He was caught in the dragnet thrown in the city of Fort Worth. Rev. Alexander Campbell Parker is the general manager of the Great State Petroleum company. He was caught in a dragnet thrown in the city of New York and was indicted with seven others for using the mails to defraud stock investors of one million dollars. Cook furnished $25,000 bond and was released; Parker furnished $25,000 bond and was released.

Attorney General Harry J. Daugherty is getting to be a very busy man and he promises to make life interesting for organizers of oil companies and sellers of oil stock unless they are able to read their title clear and make their record straight.

What became of Representative Johnson and his blue sky bill? The gentleman from Blanco introduced his blue sky bill very early in the 38th legislature. Was it stolen, chloroformed, or abducted?

This is the message the governor sent to the gentleman from Nueces: "Courts are proper forces to determine legality of contracts, not the legislature." And the expected happened.

CAVES OF GLOOM

Broadway cabarets are to be padlocked for a year. Their managers sold bootleg whisky to patrons of their places. Now the federal injunction of the Volstead law has been invoked and many houses of mirth will be caves of gloom for twelve months to come. John Barleycorn may not know it but he is dead. Uncle Sam is putting the lights out on good old Broadway and when the lights are out the hobsters and the fairies will have no place to go, regardless of the fact that they are all dressed up, all thrifty, and "agin' the government."

LETTER FROM ALICE HAMILL TO HER FRIEND, BETTY STOKLEY

The plot thickens, dear Betty, and I feel quite a conspirator. Yesterday I received a picture postcard from Leslie, who is at Niagara Falls on her wedding trip, saying that Jack her husband, insisted upon her wearing the "pearl beads" I gave her at the time.
I wonder what he would think if he knew that those "pearl beads" were real and probably worth a hundred and twenty-five thousand dollars. What would he think if he knew that some man had given ten years of his life to matching them? And that I had been a labor of love? What would he think about Leslie if he suddenly realized that Karl Whitney's heart was breaking because of her in rings with another man?

Oh, Betty, isn't life wonderful! I never thought that, when I read such stories as "The Jewels," I would be one of the actors in a story of that kind. You remember, Betty, how we sneaked that book up to my room and read it under lock and key because we knew that if mother knew we were reading it she would take it away from us.
And now, Betty dear, we know it is real life—just as did our author.

Of course in "The Jewels," the woman was aware that a man and her husband was giving her real jewels.
Although I did not think so at the time, now I have grown older and more experienced, I think that the author intended us to believe there was an "affaire de coeur" between the wife of the government clerk and her husband's friend.

My sister Leslie is perfectly innocent in this matter, but I sometimes wonder if I did right in allowing Karl Whitney to make her this wonderful present. But, oh, Betty dear, I did feel so sorry for him. I knew his love for my sister would be the one love of his life. He is what you might call a "housewife man."

He was over here last night and he did speak so beautifully of love and what it meant. I felt all the while, while he was talking, that it was a shame some good woman might become his wife. I know he will never marry.

Betty dear, I am afraid that unless I find a man as splendid as Karl, a man who has the capacity for loving which he has, I shall go to my grave forever unloved.

Have you ever seen any men over there in France that strike you as splendid as Karl? I do not think that you realized how wonderful he is until I told you of this tragic episode in his life.

Truly I have learned from this that we are not from our joys but from our griefs.

I know you are intensely interested in this love story right out of real life and I shall keep you informed from day to day. But honestly, Betty, I do not think that Leslie's present husband can make her perfectly happy.

Lovingly yours,
ALICE.

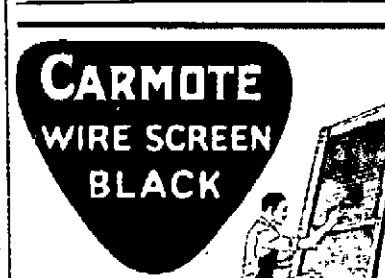

TOMORROW: Leslie Prescott writes down thoughts she would not tell to another.

PREPARATION

BY HERTON BRADLEY
She's sewing on tiny garments.
The littlest and softest things;
And there is a light in my true love's eyes.
Which only such labor brings;
And I watch her sewing, and in my heart
Is the pride of a dozen kings.

She's sewing on little garments
And as she sews she dreams,
Filled with a vision of joy and hope,
Thrilled with her plans and schemes.
"And the light that was never on sea or land."
Over her features gleams.

She's sewing on little garments
And the day of her trial is near.
Yet all her mood is the mood of joy
And never a hint of fear:
Oh, wife, may it all go well with you,
My dear, my dear, my dear!
(Copyright, 1923, NELA Service, Inc.)

Save your screens from rust

Coat your screens with Carmote Wire Screen Black before they have a chance to rust. It gives a jet black finish to the wire that will last. It will not become brown or rusty.

"Save the surface and you save all"

North End Pharmacy

The Old Home Town

When the wind and the thunder are making such a noise that lady thinks sure they are going to get somebody, he likes to be close to dad. He is convinced that dad has power to make any danger remain at a distance, and nothing close to him the child feels that he has protection from the storm. And sometimes dad himself has fears. His worries are such that even mother cannot cheer him, and he looks for a harbor where he will be safe from all that threatens. He lies down by the sleeping baby's side, lets the chubby hand grasp his finger, and then he feels that he has protection from the storm.

Four palms had lots of disappointments, but it is a source of satisfaction to him to know that once in his life he had just what he wanted. He was 9 years old at the time, and one evening grandma permitted him to take charge of the front room, where he went quietly about his preparations. After he got his strings fixed the way he wanted them, the room was darkened and other members of the family were called in to be frightened out of their wits by the paper skeleton he and grandma had secretly ordered from Chicago.

Cousin Tinky and Mrs. Ripple haven't spoken since they got their silverware mixed at the supper given during court week. The silverware is the same pattern, but when it was discovered that a knife and a spoon were missing each woman identified her fall set.

PICK 'ABIDE WITH ME'

AS FAVORITE HYMN
NEW YORK, April 13.—"Abide With Me" was shown to be America's favorite hymn in a survey completed by a musical magazine, in which thousands of church-goers stated their preference. "Nearer, My God, to Thee" was second.

THEATRES

SCHEDULE OF AMUSEMENTS

FRIDAY
Liberty: "Rip Van Winkle," featuring Thomas Jefferson.
Peoples: Laurette Taylor starred in "Peg O' My Heart."
Pearce: "The Kentucky Derby" starring Reginald Denny.
Strand: Dramatic bill and musical comedy and picture. "Parted Carriage."
Green Tree: Scene Castle in "The Hilliest Mystery"; and Episode 10 of "Plunder."

SATURDAY
Strand: Dramatic bill and musical comedy and picture. "Parted Carriage."
Liberty: "The Ball" with an all-star cast featured.
Peoples: Laurette Taylor in "Peg O' My Heart."
Pearce: "The Kentucky Derby" starring Reginald Denny.
Green Tree: Laurette Joy in "Mimic"; and Blue Fox serial.

POPULAR MELODRAMA
Kentucky, home of mint julep, aristocracy, beautiful women, thoroughbred horses, and magnificent scenery. The Pacific ocean, romantic tyrannic and historic, grave of hope and dream of idle dreams. These are the locations of the suspense picture, "The Kentucky Derby," which opened a three-day engagement at the Pearce theater today.

LAVISH PRODUCTION
Romance reborn is in the famous old novel of Bertha M. Clays, "Flowers and Blossoms," which is particularly a treat and which fairly breathes romance. The early part of the story is taken in Spain, land of roses, dark eyes and the clink of castanets. Then the action shifts to New Orleans.
"Flowers and Blossoms," opens a three-day engagement at the Peoples theater Wednesday.

CROWLEY, LA. TO VOTE

ON $200,000 BOND ISSUE
CROWLEY, La., April 13.—A $200,000 bond issue for street, water, works and fire protection, storm and sanitary sewers will be submitted to the taxpayers voters here in the near future. City taxes have been reduced 2 mills, representing the amount it will cost the taxpayers for 25 years. In the event the bond issue is floated.

Colgate's Latest Creation

Double Black Florient Compact

Very New—Very Attractive—Very Stylish

This Black Ebony Finished Double Compact is indeed a thing of beauty. Almost as thin as a watch, it is so smooth and glossy that you can see your face in the black cover almost as well as in the mirror inside the box. Initials engraved on the cover will come out in gold to match the gold in the Grecian border. The powder is delightfully scented with Florient and is obtainable in three shades. The rouge is medium in color. Priced at $1.25 Single Compacts of the same description, $1.00 only round in design.

The Corner Drug Co.
"Where You Get Quality and Service"
MERCHANTS NATIONAL BANK BLDG.
Phones 38 and 675

Just Received—

Overnight Bags
$7 to $10 and up

Ladies' overnight fancy suit cases and bags, small sizes, just what you're looking for, nicely fitted, nicely lined, also hat bags—black duffel finish and patent. Special prices, come in and see them.

Big assortment of trunks, all kinds, also suit cases and bags of all kinds, priced in your favor. It's worth your while to investigate.

Jacob & Lipoff
JEWELERS
We Sell for Less

MARINE AND SHIPPING NOTES

ARRIVED APRIL 13
Vessel, Agent, Flag, Tonnage.
Winifred, 1,520, from Houston to Gulf company.
Vesta, 2,223, from New York to Gulf company.
Rochester, 4,271, from Paulshoro to Gulf company.
Illinois, 5,092, from Norfolk to Texas Company.
Harvester, 5,114, from Marcus Hook to Texas Company.

SAILED APRIL 13
W. M. Irish, 5,351, from Texas Company to New York.

IN PORT ARTHUR
Rochester, 4,271, Gulf company.
Illinois, 5,092, Texas Company.
Vesta, 2,223, Gulf company.
Winifred, 1,520, Gulf company.
Paulshoro, (Norwegian), 3,253, Texas Company.
Osvego, 3,431, Gulf company.
Harvester, 5,114, Texas Company.
Nettuno, (Italian Navy), E. P. Pich.
Notre Dame de Lourdes, (French), Texas Company.
Amathus, (British), 3,490, Collin and Butler.
Sch. Melbourne P. Smith, 528, John R. Adams company.
Scholow, 1,571, Transmarine corporation.
Sch. W. J. Patterson, 520, Sparks and Sparks.
Commercial Scout, 1,920, Hall shipping company.

At Beaumont
Amathus, (Dutch), 4,060, Magnolia company.
Southland, 1,620, Hall 1 shipping company.
Empire Arrow, 4,960, Magnolia company.
Mount Evans, 3,903, Lykes Agency.

At Orange
Ramsey, (British), 2,702, Latchum-Moore company.
Sch. Paul E. Thurlow, 1,633, Latchum-Moore company.

STRAND
New Play
The Trail of The Lonesome Pine
Dramatic Bill in 4 Acts
Special Vaudeville Features by Spanish Troubadour Co.
Remember Ladies' Matinee Saturday 2:30 p. m.

MEN'S QUALITY WEAR

The other fellows will Don them tomorrow, and you'll want to wear one of these STRAW HATS

In an endless variety of styles, shapes, sizes and material and fadler shades, plain and rough weaves, just any style you want. Pick now while the picking's good—prices—

$2.50 to $5

C. T. BAKER & CO.
124 Procter
Open till 9 p. m. Saturday and Pay Nights, Week Days 6 p. m. Phone 77

THE FOLLOWING DOCTORS HAVE MOVED TO THE FOURTH FLOOR OF THE DEUTSER BUILDING

Dr. Frank D. Mabry
Rectal, Genito-Urinary Surgery
Suite 403-02
Phone 1526

Dr. T. W. Young, Jr.
Physician
Suite 404-05
Phone 804

Dr. M. F. Bledsoe
Surgeon
Suite 408-10
Phone 421

Dr. J. A. Bledsoe
Physician and Surgeon
Suite 410-11
Phone 1541

Dr. E. W. Vaughan
Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat
Suite 421
Phone 1186

Dr. I. T. Young
Physician and Surgeon
Suite 423-24
Phone 912

Dr. Ben H. Vaughan
Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat
Suite 406-07
Phone 555

Dr. W. E. Crumpler
Physician and Surgeon
Suite 409-10
Phone 672

Dr. M. Swearingen
Disease of Children
Suite 412-13
Phone 990

THE NEWS' SOCIAL AND HOUSEHOLD PAGE

RECENT BRIDES POPULARIZE ROSEWOOD GOWNS, WORN NOW IN A VARIETY OF MATERIALS

WEDDINGS set fashions. The glamor and romance of these events give impetus to new ideas in clothes. Dressmakers think of this when they make such frocks; they aim to catch the attention of the public, and through this source, if possible, to launch something new.

This has often been done at weddings, and probably will continue to be done as long as there are weddings. At a smart wedding recently the brides wore unusual frocks in rosewood. It was an odd color to introduce into the brilliance of a wedding pageant, but it won out for now these gowns are appearing in the shops.

Rosewood has become a fashionable color of the hour. It can be found in chiffon, taffeta, crepe de chine and georgette. Lace is dyed to match the fabrics, for it is a lace season, and dyes are hard at work producing desirable colors. Rosewood is such a rich color.

A frock of such lace over a deep silver or burnished gold slip makes an admirable bridesmaid's gown. The glitter of the metal, if not too bright, enlivens the wood color of the lace.

Such a brilliant gown would make a wonderful frock for a bridesmaid in a spring wedding; and it may give a suggestion to those who are perplexed about the pageant in which they are to take part.

After being worn, appropriate for a wedding and for afternoon and evening wear, made of two materials, lace and chiffon. There is no glint of metal. The skirt is full and touches the ankles. The bodice resembles a corset in its slim straightness, which makes one think of the iron-boned Elizabethan bodice, which covered, happily, whatever thickness of waist existed. The sleeves are cut in one with the bodice, the skirt is gathered to its edge and a sedate row of formal chiffon bows marks a straight line from neck to hem, for bows, trim eighteenth century bows, are in fashion. A bouquet of mixed sweet peas is caught at one side.

Various hats are worn with such a frock as this. One is made of layers of chiffon in the sweet pea colors, each layer about two inches wide, lapping over the lower one.

THE Christian Endeavor rally and entertainment at the First Christian church this evening promises to be one of the most delightful events in the annals of Beaumont District history.

All preparations have been made by local Endeavorers to entertain the Beaumont Endeavorers, and a large delegation of visiting Endeavorers is expected. Members of the C. E. Societies of the First Christian and Presbyterian churches will be hosts and hostesses on this evening.

The rally program will begin promptly at 7:30 o'clock and will conclude at 8:30 o'clock. The program has been planned by the Beaumont Endeavorers and will be as follows:

Song service—Led by Mr. Wilson, director of the Presbyterian choir of Beaumont.

Introductory remarks—Miss Sophia Jaschke of Beaumont, president of the Beaumont C. E. district.

Devotional service—Miss Elizabeth Bryan, Beaumont.

"The Field and Its Seed"—Elmer Stockholm of Beaumont, vice president of Beaumont district.

Special music—Furnished by Beaumont Endeavorers.

"Talks"—"Our Discipleship"—Rev. H. H. Horton, pastor of the First Christian church, Beaumont.

Short talk—"The Sherman Convention"—Miss Jaschke.

Consolation service—Rev. T. Alvin Davis, pastor of the Presbyterian church.

Resolution—Rev. W. F. Hunter, pastor of the Presbyterian church of Beaumont.

At the conclusion of the program at 8:30 o'clock, the evening's entertainment will be given.

Just Arrived—A grey suede with small patent toe—effect carrying a 14-8th "Cuban covered heel" $8.00

Grey Suede—All grey suede with 15-8th Louis heel, one strap, hand turned sole, 16-8th heel, moderately priced $10.00

Complete line of ladies' hosiery at all prices, sizes and colors.

KEITH SHOE CO.
"Hosiery Too"
500-Procter Phone 60

A Beautiful Complexion of Satin-Like Texture
The incomparable beauty of thousands of women that smooth, satin-like skin texture so much admired—is the result of Nadinola Cream, which has proved itself for a quarter of a century, the standard bleaching and beautifying cream.

Scientists long ago discovered and combined in Nadinola Cream, elements which bleach the skin and remove tan, freckles, pimples and other discolorations. Of its own peculiar virtues, it rides the skin of impurities and leaves it smooth and beautiful.

The 50c package will remove mild cases, the $1.00 size more stubborn cases. Directions and guarantee in each package, at your toilet counter.

National Toilet Co.,
P.O. Box 1000

McMULLEN & GLASS
PYRO-FORM COMPANY, SAN BERNARDINO, CALIF.

Pyro-form
POSITIVELY STOPS PYORRHEA

PRESERVE YOUR HEALTH
IF YOU HAVE tender, bleeding or loose teeth, it is the danger point. Pyorrhea—the dreaded mouth plague—is the cause of more Rheumatism, Stomach Trouble, Skin infection, Kidney trouble and general disability than any other cause.

But Pyorrhea can be banished and banished quickly. "PYRO-FORM"—the new, scientific remedy—positively stops the disease. Price $3 per carton. Sold under a strict money-back guarantee.

Don't lose your teeth or impair your health. Get a carton of "PYRO-FORM" today and note the remarkable results.

Oh, See What You Agreed to Do, Girls, When You Said 'Yes' to Your Sweetie

By NEA Service
COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., April 13.—Married Bliss? Nah! A myth. A delusion.

You married women who think you are happy, listen to Miss Elizabeth Belschner, blissfully single, secretary of the convention bureau of the Colorado Springs Chamber of Commerce.

Miss Belschner has reduced married life down to a discouraging array of figures, to prove it is just one long round of planning and cooking meals and washing dishes.

"Yes, I realize that the average person eats only three meals a day," she says. "But there are 365 days in the year. That means 1095 meals a year!"

Oh, drat day when you were wed! Think of 4095 meals a year—and the utensils and dishes, and silverware to wash and wipe! If you can't summon up courage enough to think of this heap of greasy housework you contracted for on your wedding day, Miss Belschner does it for you. Look her figure:

In preparing meals, you use at least six kettles a day. That's 2190 greasy pots to clean a year?

In cooking you need about four utensils a meal, or 4380 a year. Let alone extra paraphernalia.

Why didn't you think of this before you said, "Yes?"

But, Miss Belschner goes on: For the average family of four, figuring conservatively, there are the following dishes and silverware to wash and wipe:

Twelve pieces of silver ..... 13,110 a year
Twenty pieces of china ..... 21,900 a year
Total ..... 35,010

Grand total, 41,100 pots, kettles, dishes and silverware to wash and wipe—not to mention utensils and other extras.

Don't think from this that Miss Belschner is a man-hater. She meets thousands of prominent men, but, she adds, there are mighty few of these she'd care to prepare meals for if she had to wash the dishes.

Willie Carter, Mrs. Wilbur Abbey, Miss Nora Todtman, Mrs. Arthur Beard, Miss Alice Hanchett, Miss Jennie Buehl, Miss Mary Beard, Miss Eunice Rogers, and Mrs. Wallace Follette.

Miss Eunice Rogers will entertain the club on April 26 at her home, 3022 Fifth street.

MRS. JOE WAITE OF BEAUMONT is visiting with her son-in-law and daughter, Rev. and Mrs. T. Alvin Davis of 1001 Fifth street.

MISS HANNAH BOS GRACIOUSLY entertained the Thursday afternoon Sewing Club yesterday afternoon at her attractive home on Lake Shore drive.

The home was in lovely adornment with a profusion of verbenas, and pretty garden flowers. At the close of the delightful afternoon of domestic work the hostess offered a tempting refreshment service.

Those enjoying the afternoon were Miss Virginia Huntz, Mrs. Arthur Walker Jr., Mrs. Sam Hanson Jr., Mrs. Harry Holton, Mrs. Milton Goss, and Miss Hannah Bos.

Mrs. A. C. Walker Jr. will entertain the club next week at her home on Mobile avenue.

MRS. FELIX BROUSSARD of the Lake Shore apartments has returned from Houston, where she has been attending the Houston Presbytery several days.

ST. GEORGE'S EPISCOPAL Guild held no meeting yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Nora Keith, 749 Stuyvesant boulevard, as scheduled on account of the rain.

Next week's meeting will be held with Mrs. May Jennis at her home, 1469 Procter street.

AN UNUSUALLY INTERESTING program has been arranged by the Girls' Music Study and Dramatic Club for tomorrow afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at Mrs. O. L. Morton's Studio. Every member is urged to be in prompt attendance on this occasion.

MISS MONA DUMESNIL OF 1232 Seventh street has returned home after a stay of seven weeks with her brother and his family in Houston.

ST. MARY'S CATHOLIC ALTAR Society held no meeting at the Knights of Columbus hall yesterday afternoon on account of the inclement weather.

The next meeting of the Altar Society will be held on April 20 at the Knights of Columbus hall at which time the program which was to have been given yesterday, will be re-duplicated.

St. George's Y. P. S. L. To Hold Communion Service Sunday Night

The Young Peoples Service League of St. George's Episcopal church will hold its regular corporate Communion service Sunday morning at 7:30 o'clock at the church.

The young people of the League extend a cordial invitation to all organizations of the church to hold corporate communion with them Sunday. A large attendance is desired.

REV. DAVIS IS BACK FROM HOUSTON MEET

Rev. T. Alvin Davis, pastor of the Presbyterian church, has returned from Houston, where he has been attending the Houston Presbytery several days.

Novelty Stockings

A novelty in hosiery is the one of glove silk with nauties and oriental designs in brilliant colors completely covering it. Such stockings are worn with black or white pinnies and with sports or fancy costumes, but are especially at their best with the pleated white skirt.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

BUREAU DRAWERS
Paint the inside of your bureau drawers with white enamel and they will be easy to keep clean.

LONG-HANDLED BRUSH
A long-handled brush should be a part of every household equipment. It is excellent for cleaning off greasy dishes before the actual washing occurs.

USE FOR OLD STOCKINGS
Lena of old stockings from which the feet have been removed make good coverings to wear over your arms while doing dirty work.

SAFETY MATCHES
Safety matches will light if you strike them on common glass.

DRYING STOCKINGS
After laundering stockings always hang them up by the toes to dry. This way they will not stretch out of shape.

HAND LOTION
Keep a small bottle of hand lotion or a tube of vaseline in the kitchen and use it if you have had to wear your hands in cold water frequently.

CUBAN RAW SUGAR GOES TO NEW HIGH

NEW YORK, April 13.—Cuban raw sugar has boosted to a new high for the year today.

Two raigues totalling 12,000 tons were sold at six cents F. O. B. Cuba for June shipment which is equivalent to about 6-18 cents cost and freight to New York. This development followed the arrival of Acting Attorney General A. T. Seymour to investigate sugar hoarding at the suggestion of President Harding.

16,471,610 Gallons Of Refined Oil Shipped By Magnolia Co. in March

Fifteen ships sailing from the Magnolia Petroleum company's Sabine district terminals in March carried 16,471,610 gallons of refined oil products and 149,965.79 barrels of crude oil, according to a statement issued by the company today. The largest cargo of refined oil reported went out on March 27 aboard the tanker Astral, the statement showing this vessel carried 3,550,453 gallons. All of the crude oil shipments were sent out on two vessels, the Vega, sailing March 17, carrying 61,790.28 barrels, and the Harmony, on March 21, carrying 85,195.53 barrels, the report states.

Secretary of M. E. District Of Education in California

Dr. John L. Mann, of the City, assistant secretary of the California State Board of Education, will arrive in Port Arthur tomorrow, according to W. E. Blackstock.

Grove's Tasteless Chin Tonic

Destroys Malarial Germs in the Blood.

The Hodges Company, Inc.

Where the Promise is Performed

More New Footwear For Spring

Footwear for tramping is of that sturdy quality which one can trust, we offer these friendly companions—sport and walking oxfords and strap pumps with well soles and medium heels. On the other hand, the dress slippers show pretty combinations of satins, suedes, patents with color touches. But most important, is to see that you are correctly fitted in footwear that is properly designed. Of course, that calls for a trip to Hodges.

Brown Kid—Vamp and quarter combined with field mouse kid collar, strap and foxing. The strap is wide which permits two buttons, military heel, rubber cap, welt sole, $10 pair.

Fawn Buck—This pump of fawn buck has a brown calf trimmed strap, collar and two narrow stripes of brown calf form the lip. Welt sole, walking heel, rubber cap, $9.50 pair.

Black Kid—Of finest quality black kid is this clever little dress slipper with one strap and turn sole, perforated trimmings and 16-8 Louis heel, $9.50 pair.

Black Satin—This black satin pump takes to black suede for its trimming at strap, and side strapings. Welt sole, 14-8 box heel, $8.50 pair.

Patent Pump—This pretty little patent pump relies on a short beaded tongue for its decoration. Turn sole, 16-8 Louis heel, $10.50 pair.

Black Kid—Another very dainty slipper which show a short beaded tongue to advantage, turn sole, 16-8 Louis heel, $10.50 pair.

Grey Suede—Entirely of grey is this slipper of suede with grey calf trimmings. The straps are crossed and button at either side. Spanish heel, short vamp, turn sole, $9.00 pair.

Black Transparent Hats Are Here

Those lovely transparent hats in black are here. Shown in maline, hair braids, hair cloth and straw, some in combinations, all prettily styled with flowers, jet and ornaments as embellishments.

Children's Hats 3.50 to 6.95

B. El Zee and other designers are these children's hats for the lot of 4 to the size of 14. Sailors and soft shapes in white, red, cream, rose, black and combinations. Of milan, fancy braids, leghorns and some combined with leather.

Grass Rakes

Grass Shears

Lawn Rakes

Long Handle Sickles

Grass Catchers $1 to $2

Lawn Hose

Lawn Sprinklers

Pruning Shears

Short Handle Sickles

Everything for The Home and Lawn

POSTMASTER GUILTY OFF LIGHT

Guilty to Shortage, is Fined Same Amount

PORT ARTHUR, Texas, April 12.—A plan of guilty to a charge of shorting postal funds, Anna D. Richardson, former postmaster at Anna, Texas, was fined $1,000, the amount of the funds he is alleged to have shorted, by Judge W. L. Estes in federal court Thursday. Upon his failure to pay the fine, Richardson was remanded to jail.

Sentenced to six months imprisonment for alleged violation of the prohibition act, Billy Gleason, through counsel, gave notice of appeal to the circuit court of appeals at New Orleans, following his trial Thursday.

Title to a strip of land in Hardin county and $500 damages were awarded J. K. Crow by a jury in federal court Thursday in his case against R. T. Edgar Savant court judge. The award of $500 was given as damages for timber cut by the sawmill company from Crow's land.

Dismissal of the case against the Brooks Supply company, brought by the Louisiana and Western Railway, was followed by an order from the court that the plaintiffs pay the costs of the case.

Two Men Just Alike But Court Cannot Decide Between Them

LEFT TO RIGHT: PAUL SIERRO, SAM SIERRO AND MISS IRENE HAYES SIERRO WITH BABY BILLY.

By ROY GIBBONS
NEA Staff Correspondent
CHICAGO, April 12.—A comedy of errors here has developed into a tragedy.

Gurgling two-year-old Baby Billy Sierro is the innocent victim of an amazing tangle which even the courts have failed to solve.

And Mrs. Irene Hayes Sierro has turned to science and has asked it by means of blood tests to determine who is her husband and the father of her baby, born in legal wedlock. The first act of this drama took place in 1929 when Irene Hayes became the wife of one Paul Sierro, according to a marriage license, duly signed, which she now offers in evidence. From this union Baby Billy was born.

Two of Him

When brought into court here the other day to answer a charge of non-support, the husband appeared in the form of two men.

One called himself Sam Sierro. The other said his name was Paul Sierro. Each bore a striking resemblance to the other.

But they seemed to have interchangeable names. Sierro, it was said at the hearing, often was known as Sierro and Sierro sometimes called himself Sierro.

"Which of these is your husband?" asked the judge.

"The wife pointed to Sierro, 'And the father of your child?' the court queried.

"Yes."

"Your honor, she's wrong," said the man calling himself Sierro. "I'm her husband. But I'm only the baby's stepfather."

"You lie? You lie?" the woman screamed.

"Never saw her" the court resumed.

"Never saw her before in my life," came the answer.

"But he is my husband. I lived with him three years. Here's his name on the marriage license," pleaded the wife.

"Both of you," he said, addressing the two men, "step forward and write the words, 'Paul Sierro.'"

The magistrate examined the handwriting specimens with that on the marriage license.

"They were almost identical. The court was dumfounded.

"Let the baby decide," he then suggested. "Let it pick out its daddy."

The wife took the little one into her arms and offered it first to Sierro. The baby was indifferent.

"Come to me," pleaded Sierro. "I'm not your daddy. Only your stepdaddy. But come on anyhow."

Still Baby Billy registered indifference, and the judge wiped his brow. One more ray of hope remained.

The judge turned to the wife.

"Did your husband have any marks by which you might identify him?"

"Only a mole behind his ear."

Then started a general search for the mole. It was found—impressively the same place on both men.

"Defendants discharged," ruled the court. "Take the case into the divorce chambers."

And that's how science has come to be entered in the case.

Buy 3 Miles of Cloth
As Jail Styles Change

NEW YORK, April 12.—Three miles of cloth has just been purchased to dress the prisoners in Bedford as a result of the change in styles whereby the uniforms will be longer and less uniform in design.

Heretofore the girls have worn a single pattern, a blue-and-white stripe for dresses. Now there are four patterns, blue-and-white check and plain blue.

A variety of designs for the women's dresses is calculated to be more satisfactory to the prisoners because it will permit them to make a choice.

Buckles

Buckles continue to be an important factor in spring footwear. Frequently they cost much more than the pumps and some are so large they almost conceal the shoe.

AGED WOMAN SLUGGED AND ROBBED OF $700

MADISON, April 12.—Two flashily dressed young men forced their way into the home of Mrs. James Barclay, 75, here and after slugging her, took $700 and escaped. The two robbers knocked at the door and asked to see Mrs. Barclay's son. When advised that he was not at home they forced an entrance.

SOME GIRLS QUIT LIPSTICK

NEW YORK, April 12.—Extreme styles in dresses have been dropped by the 175 women and girl employees in a leading banking house here, not by official precept, but by general recognition of the fact that ear-rings, bejeweled and makeup flappers in business offices are passing.

Short skirts, King Tut earrings and frequent widdows of a lipstick are decidedly out of vogue in the firm.

FRANCE FOOLISH, CECIL DECLARES

Concedes She is Within Her Rights, But Its League Job

DES MOINES, Iowa, April 12.—France is within her rights in occupying the Ruhr but is acting foolishly, Lord Robert Cecil, league of nations proponent who will address the League of Women Voters tonight, declared.

He said the dispute should be one referred to the league.

The League of Women Voters, in a resolution adopted today, launched a move for equal property rights by husband and wife.

Opponents of the resolution declared the scheme would compel wage-earning wives to share their pay with their husbands. Proponents declared interests of working women in this country would be taken care of by future legislation.

Novelty Cuffs

Novelty cuffs are seen on many of the street gloves for spring. They are usually developed in two tones, gray and tan, black and white or brown and tan.

Brevity may be the soul of wit, but there is nothing very funny about being short of cash.

MARRIED TWO YEARS; HOW CAN HE PAY IT?

ST. LOUIS, April 12.—Fred W. Ziegenhein, son of Henry Ziegenhein, former mayor of St. Louis, is defendant in a suit for $5,000 filed by Mrs. Mary Hill, Chicago, who charges Ziegenhein promised to pay her $5,000 the day he entered into matrimony.

The defendant, according to the petition, made an agreement with Mrs. Hill when she sued him for breach of promise in 1918 that he would pay the $5,000 if he ever married.

According to the petition, Ziegenhein has been married two years and has not yet paid the $5,000.

Masquerading Broker, Lothario, Held in Jail

NEW YORK, April 12.—Louis L. DeLoe, Baltimore bond broker, arrested while disguised in a white wig and moustache, was arraigned and remanded without bail to await arrival of extradition papers from Baltimore. He is charged with obtaining $52,000 worth of bonds by bogus checks.

With him in court was Miss Mabel Fox, with whom he took an 11-room apartment March 23, after breaking with the 19-year-old girl who police say, accompanied him here from Baltimore.

According to the police, DeLoe, a major of marines during the world war, is married to a daughter of Adrian Posep, until his death a prominent Baltimore banker.

Do You Remember

when you were a little fellow how you used to be thrilled to death when mother or dad would take you down town and dress your feet up in a new pair of shoes. Your kiddies have that same thrill, so you should

Dress Them Up Tomorrow

And Kahn's is the best place to dress up their feet, because no matter what kind of shoe you have in mind for the tot you will find it among our large selection of Child's Footwear.

Kahn's Shoe Parlor

The Home of Good Shoes

MEN! WOMEN!! DRESS UP NOW--PAY LATER

Don't Worry About the Cash--Use Your Credit
DON'T WORRY ABOUT THE CASH--USE YOUR CREDIT--OPEN A CHARGE ACCOUNT--PAY AS YOU GET PAID--A SMALL PAYMENT DOWN--THE BALANCE IN EASY PAYMENTS EACH PAY DAY--SELECT THE NEWEST UP-TO-THE-MINUTE STYLES AND CHARGE IT.

Exceptional Values in Men's and Young Men's Fine Suits, Hats, Trousers and Shoes. Yes, and Boys Clothes Too.

Women's and Misses' Beautiful Dresses, Smart New Suits, Jaunty Coats, Newest Wraps, Pretty Blouses and Sweaters, also Skirts—Becoming Millinery and Stylish Oxfords.

Special Purchase of MEN'S AND YOUNG MEN'S Classy Suits

Special purchases of men's and young men's classy suits—The biggest values in town, sport, jazz and conservative models, distinctive tailoring—Fine quality of all pure wool, cassimeres, chevots, rerges and fancy worsteds in all the wanted colors. Don't wait until you get the cash—Buy now—Get your suit and pay along as you wear it.

Wonderful Values in WOMEN'S AND MISSES'
Beautiful Dresses

Wonderful values in women's and misses' beautiful dresses, every new style, every new color and combination. Sport dresses, dresses for every occasion and in every size—even including the stylish stouts. Beautiful Egyptian prints, flat crepes, cotton crepes, georgettes, etc. Beautifully made and handsomely trimmed.

$19<sup>50</sup> Up

$12<sup>98</sup> Up

No matter what your tastes you can be satisfactorily suited in style and price and on the easiest terms imaginable.

W. T. FARLEY

331 Procter

Open Saturday and Pay Nights Till 9

A ONE DAY SALE SATURDAY

Boy's 2 Pants Suits
One lot Boys' 2 Pants Suits $5<sup>55</sup>
Boys' 2 Pants SUITS $9.95 to $12.95 $7<sup>77</sup>

You'll find suits in this lot from sizes 8 to 18 years. The majority have two pants—some have only one pair of pants; light and dark patterns; Saturday only $5.55.

This lot comprises our entire stock of boys' suits; ranging from $8.95 to $12.95; they are absolutely all wool; sizes 7 to 17 years; Saturday only at $7.77.

New Crepe Dresses

$12<sup>95</sup>

Wonderful! It's mildly exciting the exquisite charm of these dresses at this price! See them in display Saturday, all high colors, assorted sizes.

$21.50 to $25
DRESSES $16.95

Taffetas, crepes, crepe de Chine and cantons; regular $21.50 to $25; dress; Saturday only $16.95.

SPECIALS

Unbleached Domestic 15c

85c Men's Union Suits 69c

$1.50 Men's Shirts $1.19

Blue Work Shirts 79c

$1.25 Play Suits $1

$1.50 House Slippers $1.19

$1.25 Silk Hose 98c

$1.75 Boys' Pants $1.49

$2 Wash Waists $1.39

THE FAIR

543 Procter

WE DELIVER

Phone 1504

Find Body of Missing Woman in Old Shack

NEW HAVEN, Conn., April 12.—Evidence of a sordid, ghastly crime was unearthed Saturday when police went to a lonely shack on the Post Meadow road in East Haven and found the nude body of Mrs. Lena Huntington, 45, wife of a painter employed at a New Haven department store. The woman had been missing for 10 days. Discovery of her body followed a visit to the police station of three men, Frank Carocopia, 28; Nicholas Parola, 40; and Savino Salva, 32, of this city, who told police a woman's body would be found in the shack. The men were held.

WASHING SPINACH
Spinach should be washed through many waters, all of which should contain salt except the last one.

RAW BACON
Never keep raw bacon in paper—keep it in a dish and keep the rind on until you are ready to fry it.

If Ruptured Try This Free

Apply it to Any Rupture, Old or Recent, Large or Small and You are on the Road That Has Convinced Thousands

Sent Free to Prove This

Any ruptured man, woman or child should write at once to W. S. Hays, 8733 Main St., Adams, N. Y. for a free trial of his wonderful stimulating application. Just put it on the rupture and the muscles begin to tighten; they begin to bind together so that the opening closes naturally and the need of a support or truss or appliance is then done away with. Don't neglect to send for this free trial. Even if your rupture doesn't bother you what is the use of wearing supports all your life? Why suffer this nuisance? Why run the risk of gangrene and such dangers from a small and innocent little rupture, the kind that has thrown thousands on the operating table? A host of men and women are daily running such risk just because their ruptures do not hurt nor prevent them from getting around. Write at once for this free trial, as it is certainly a wonderful thing and has aided in the cure of ruptures that were as big as a man's two fists. Try and write at once, using the coupon below.

Free for Rupture
W. S. Hays, Inc.
8733 Main St., Adams, N. Y.
I am very glad to receive your free trial of your stimulating application for Rupture.
Name _____
Address _____
City _____ State _____

STEVENS FILES ANNOUNCEMENT

Texas Co. Employee Seeks Finance Commissionship

Gilbert H. Stevens, an employee of the Texas Company, filed his candidacy with City Clerk E. H. Miles this morning for commission of public records and finance.

In making his announcement, Mr. Stevens, who has been a resident of Port Arthur for the past 11 years, and employed at the Texas Company as district supervisor, the candidate, in a statement, points out that his experience has qualified him for the office he seeks.

"I believe I can be of service to my home city and feel particularly well qualified to perform the duties of commissioner of public records and finance," the statement asserts.

Stevens promises "a faithful performance of all public duties," and declares that he will "at all times shape his official conduct so as to jealously guard and advance the best interests of the city and its citizens."

The statement follows:

"I hereby announce my candidacy for the office of city commissioner and respectfully solicit the support of all voters in the municipal primary election to be held May 5, 1923. I have been a resident citizen of Port Arthur for the past eleven years, and am employed by the Texas Company as district supervisor, which position affords me an opportunity to assist in determining the best and most economical method of handling the affairs of large and progressive corporations, and in view of the fact that the city government of Port Arthur is a corporation in which every voter and taxpayer in the city is an interested stockholder, I believe I can be of good service to my home city and feel particularly well qualified to perform the duties of Commissioner of Public Records and Finance. I have been solicited by many friends and voting citizens of the city to become a candidate for the office. In inviting support of the public, I promise a faithful performance of all of my public duties and shall at all times shape my official conduct so as to jealously guard and advance the best interests of the city and its citizens."

"When I was 24 everybody said my business were all in my feet," he said. "Probably were, too, for I had made $15,000 a year profit, and never missed classes at college, although my college work kept me busy all the time except two afternoons a week. I had educated feet, too, and I wanted an educated head, too. So I enrolled in the Georgia School of Technology at Atlanta. But I had thrown up my job, and I had to pay my three younger brothers in school.

"Organizing a dancing class is easy. I wanted more than that—something that would pay big. I had no money, but I had a theory that I could put my idea over by the power of suggestion and the use of psychology. I organized a dancing club rather than a school and made the lessons play rather than work.

"I started with 20 pupils, or members, of what I called the Club de Vingt. That gave it an air of exclusiveness, but it wasn't very exclusive in numbers, because my Atlanta school turned out to be the biggest in the world with 1000 children and 800 grown-ups. And I made $15,000 a year profit, and never missed classes at college, although my college work kept me busy all the time except two afternoons a week. I had educated feet, too, and I wanted an educated head, too. So I enrolled in the Georgia School of Technology at Atlanta. But I had thrown up my job, and I had to pay my three younger brothers in school.

"I failed, too — at first. During the first two years I lost $20,000 in the mail campaign. But I stuck to college and last fall, with a new mail system, I started out to teach the world how to dance. And I put it over. Not more than one person in 5000 who takes the mail course in dancing writes back to ask questions that show difficulty in learning."

Murray now has a staff of 26 people. It keeps 20 girls busy opening his mail. His printing and mimeographing bills are enormous. He dictates all the lessons himself, writes books about dancing, invents new steps, and keeps in touch with dance fashions—and since January has been taking a post-graduate course at the Columbia University School of Business. His college classes keep him busy from 7:15 to 10:30 every night except Saturday and Sunday.

"I started with 20 pupils, or members, of what I called the Club de Vingt. That gave it an air of exclusiveness, but it wasn't very exclusive in numbers, because my Atlanta school turned out to be the biggest in the world with 1000 children and 800 grown-ups. And I made $15,000 a year profit, and never missed classes at college, although my college work kept me busy all the time except two afternoons a week. I had educated feet, too, and I wanted an educated head, too. So I enrolled in the Georgia School of Technology at Atlanta. But I had thrown up my job, and I had to pay my three younger brothers in school.

"I failed, too — at first. During the first two years I lost $20,000 in the mail campaign. But I stuck to college and last fall, with a new mail system, I started out to teach the world how to dance. And I put it over. Not more than one person in 5000 who takes the mail course in dancing writes back to ask questions that show difficulty in learning."

Murray now has a staff of 26 people. It keeps 20 girls busy opening his mail. His printing and mimeographing bills are enormous. He dictates all the lessons himself, writes books about dancing, invents new steps, and keeps in touch with dance fashions—and since January has been taking a post-graduate course at the Columbia University School of Business. His college classes keep him busy from 7:15 to 10:30 every night except Saturday and Sunday.

"I started with 20 pupils, or members, of what I called the Club de Vingt. That gave it an air of exclusiveness, but it wasn't very exclusive in numbers, because my Atlanta school turned out to be the biggest in the world with 1000 children and 800 grown-ups. And I made $15,000 a year profit, and never missed classes at college, although my college work kept me busy all the time except two afternoons a week. I had educated feet, too, and I wanted an educated head, too. So I enrolled in the Georgia School of Technology at Atlanta. But I had thrown up my job, and I had to pay my three younger brothers in school.

"I failed, too — at first. During the first two years I lost $20,000 in the mail campaign. But I stuck to college and last fall, with a new mail system, I started out to teach the world how to dance. And I put it over. Not more than one person in 5000 who takes the mail course in dancing writes back to ask questions that show difficulty in learning."

Murray now has a staff of 26 people. It keeps 20 girls busy opening his mail. His printing and mimeographing bills are enormous. He dictates all the lessons himself, writes books about dancing, invents new steps, and keeps in touch with dance fashions—and since January has been taking a post-graduate course at the Columbia University School of Business. His college classes keep him busy from 7:15 to 10:30 every night except Saturday and Sunday.

"I started with 20 pupils, or members, of what I called the Club de Vingt. That gave it an air of exclusiveness, but it wasn't very exclusive in numbers, because my Atlanta school turned out to be the biggest in the world with 1000 children and 800 grown-ups. And I made $15,000 a year profit, and never missed classes at college, although my college work kept me busy all the time except two afternoons a week. I had educated feet, too, and I wanted an educated head, too. So I enrolled in the Georgia School of Technology at Atlanta. But I had thrown up my job, and I had to pay my three younger brothers in school.

"I failed, too — at first. During the first two years I lost $20,000 in the mail campaign. But I stuck to college and last fall, with a new mail system, I started out to teach the world how to dance. And I put it over. Not more than one person in 5000 who takes the mail course in dancing writes back to ask questions that show difficulty in learning."

Murray now has a staff of 26 people. It keeps 20 girls busy opening his mail. His printing and mimeographing bills are enormous. He dictates all the lessons himself, writes books about dancing, invents new steps, and keeps in touch with dance fashions—and since January has been taking a post-graduate course at the Columbia University School of Business. His college classes keep him busy from 7:15 to 10:30 every night except Saturday and Sunday.

"I started with 20 pupils, or members, of what I called the Club de Vingt. That gave it an air of exclusiveness, but it wasn't very exclusive in numbers, because my Atlanta school turned out to be the biggest in the world with 1000 children and 800 grown-ups. And I made $15,000 a year profit, and never missed classes at college, although my college work kept me busy all the time except two afternoons a week. I had educated feet, too, and I wanted an educated head, too. So I enrolled in the Georgia School of Technology at Atlanta. But I had thrown up my job, and I had to pay my three younger brothers in school.

"I failed, too — at first. During the first two years I lost $20,000 in the mail campaign. But I stuck to college and last fall, with a new mail system, I started out to teach the world how to dance. And I put it over. Not more than one person in 5000 who takes the mail course in dancing writes back to ask questions that show difficulty in learning."

Murray now has a staff of 26 people. It keeps 20 girls busy opening his mail. His printing and mimeographing bills are enormous. He dictates all the lessons himself, writes books about dancing, invents new steps, and keeps in touch with dance fashions—and since January has been taking a post-graduate course at the Columbia University School of Business. His college classes keep him busy from 7:15 to 10:30 every night except Saturday and Sunday.

"I started with 20 pupils, or members, of what I called the Club de Vingt. That gave it an air of exclusiveness, but it wasn't very exclusive in numbers, because my Atlanta school turned out to be the biggest in the world with 1000 children and 800 grown-ups. And I

MURRAY TEACHES WHOLE WORLD HOW TO DANCE.

ARTHUR MURRAY, WHO WITH THE AID OF UNCLE SAM, INSTRUCTS 100,000 PERSONS SCATTERED THROUGHOUT WORLD IN DANCING.

BY EDWARD THIERRY
NEA Service Staff Writer
NEW YORK, April 14.—Arthur Murray, with the help of Uncle Sam, is teaching the whole world to dance.

One hundred thousand people have learned how, by mail, during the last six months. At this immense pace, 15,000 live abroad; thousands in Europe, hundreds in China and Japan, scores even in Egypt and South Africa, and so many in Australia that he had to open a branch office in Sydney.

Murray is only 28, yet he has built up a very large income. And he runs his international business on the side while he goes to college.

How did he do it? Here's the explanation given by Murray, who has written a series of six articles for THE NEWS on the newer dancing steps.

"When I was 24 everybody said my business were all in my feet," he said. "Probably were, too, for I had made $15,000 a year profit, and never missed classes at college, although my college work kept me busy all the time except two afternoons a week. I had educated feet, too, and I wanted an educated head, too. So I enrolled in the Georgia School of Technology at Atlanta. But I had thrown up my job, and I had to pay my three younger brothers in school.

"I failed, too — at first. During the first two years I lost $20,000 in the mail campaign. But I stuck to college and last fall, with a new mail system, I started out to teach the world how to dance. And I put it over. Not more than one person in 5000 who takes the mail course in dancing writes back to ask questions that show difficulty in learning."

Murray now has a staff of 26 people. It keeps 20 girls busy opening his mail. His printing and mimeographing bills are enormous. He dictates all the lessons himself, writes books about dancing, invents new steps, and keeps in touch with dance fashions—and since January has been taking a post-graduate course at the Columbia University School of Business. His college classes keep him busy from 7:15 to 10:30 every night except Saturday and Sunday.

"I started with 20 pupils, or members, of what I called the Club de Vingt. That gave it an air of exclusiveness, but it wasn't very exclusive in numbers, because my Atlanta school turned out to be the biggest in the world with 1000 children and 800 grown-ups. And I made $15,000 a year profit, and never missed classes at college, although my college work kept me busy all the time except two afternoons a week. I had educated feet, too, and I wanted an educated head, too. So I enrolled in the Georgia School of Technology at Atlanta. But I had thrown up my job, and I had to pay my three younger brothers in school.

"I failed, too — at first. During the first two years I lost $20,000 in the mail campaign. But I stuck to college and last fall, with a new mail system, I started out to teach the world how to dance. And I put it over. Not more than one person in 5000 who takes the mail course in dancing writes back to ask questions that show difficulty in learning."

Murray now has a staff of 26 people. It keeps 20 girls busy opening his mail. His printing and mimeographing bills are enormous. He dictates all the lessons himself, writes books about dancing, invents new steps, and keeps in touch with dance fashions—and since January has been taking a post-graduate course at the Columbia University School of Business. His college classes keep him busy from 7:15 to 10:30 every night except Saturday and Sunday.

"I started with 20 pupils, or members, of what I called the Club de Vingt. That gave it an air of exclusiveness, but it wasn't very exclusive in numbers, because my Atlanta school turned out to be the biggest in the world with 1000 children and 800 grown-ups. And I made $15,000 a year profit, and never missed classes at college, although my college work kept me busy all the time except two afternoons a week. I had educated feet, too, and I wanted an educated head, too. So I enrolled in the Georgia School of Technology at Atlanta. But I had thrown up my job, and I had to pay my three younger brothers in school.

"I failed, too — at first. During the first two years I lost $20,000 in the mail campaign. But I stuck to college and last fall, with a new mail system, I started out to teach the world how to dance. And I put it over. Not more than one person in 5000 who takes the mail course in dancing writes back to ask questions that show difficulty in learning."

Murray now has a staff of 26 people. It keeps 20 girls busy opening his mail. His printing and mimeographing bills are enormous. He dictates all the lessons himself, writes books about dancing, invents new steps, and keeps in touch with dance fashions—and since January has been taking a post-graduate course at the Columbia University School of Business. His college classes keep him busy from 7:15 to 10:30 every night except Saturday and Sunday.

"I started with 20 pupils, or members, of what I called the Club de Vingt. That gave it an air of exclusiveness, but it wasn't very exclusive in numbers, because my Atlanta school turned out to be the biggest in the world with 1000 children and 800 grown-ups. And I made $15,000 a year profit, and never missed classes at college, although my college work kept me busy all the time except two afternoons a week. I had educated feet, too, and I wanted an educated head, too. So I enrolled in the Georgia School of Technology at Atlanta. But I had thrown up my job, and I had to pay my three younger brothers in school.

"I failed, too — at first. During the first two years I lost $20,000 in the mail campaign. But I stuck to college and last fall, with a new mail system, I started out to teach the world how to dance. And I put it over. Not more than one person in 5000 who takes the mail course in dancing writes back to ask questions that show difficulty in learning."

Murray now has a staff of 26 people. It keeps 20 girls busy opening his mail. His printing and mimeographing bills are enormous. He dictates all the lessons himself, writes books about dancing, invents new steps, and keeps in touch with dance fashions—and since January has been taking a post-graduate course at the Columbia University School of Business. His college classes keep him busy from 7:15 to 10:30 every night except Saturday and Sunday.

"I started with 20 pupils, or members, of what I called the Club de Vingt. That gave it an air of exclusiveness, but it wasn't very exclusive in numbers, because my Atlanta school turned out to be the biggest in the world with 1000 children and 800 grown-ups. And I made $15,000 a year profit, and never missed classes at college, although my college work kept me busy all the time except two afternoons a week. I had educated feet, too, and I wanted an educated head, too. So I enrolled in the Georgia School of Technology at Atlanta. But I had thrown up my job, and I had to pay my three younger brothers in school.

"I failed, too — at first. During the first two years I lost $20,000 in the mail campaign. But I stuck to college and last fall, with a new mail system, I started out to teach the world how to dance. And I put it over. Not more than one person in 5000 who takes the mail course in dancing writes back to ask questions that show difficulty in learning."

Murray now has a staff of 26 people. It keeps 20 girls busy opening his mail. His printing and mimeographing bills are enormous. He dictates all the lessons himself, writes books about dancing, invents new steps, and keeps in touch with dance fashions—and since January has been taking a post-graduate course at the Columbia University School of Business. His college classes keep him busy from 7:15 to 10:30 every night except Saturday and Sunday.

"I started with 20 pupils, or members, of what I called the Club de Vingt. That gave it an air of exclusiveness, but it wasn't very exclusive in numbers, because my Atlanta school turned out to be the biggest in the world with 1000 children and 800 grown-ups. And I made $15,000 a year profit, and never missed classes at college, although my college work kept me busy all the time except two afternoons a week. I had educated feet, too, and I wanted an educated head, too. So I enrolled in the Georgia School of Technology at Atlanta. But I had thrown up my job, and I had to pay my three younger brothers in school.

"I failed, too — at first. During the first two years I lost $20,000 in the mail campaign. But I stuck to college and last fall, with a new mail system, I started out to teach the world how to dance. And I put it over. Not more than one person in 5000 who takes the mail course in dancing writes back to ask questions that show difficulty in learning."

EXPANSION OF COLLEGE PLAN

Power Tells Lions of its Future Mission

Expansion of Port Arthur Business College into a college of commerce, the only similar institution in the south-west except one in Kansas, is the plan of Leonard Power, newly elected president of the college, he told members of the Lions club at their luncheon at the Plaza hotel at noon today.

Power said: "Radical changes are coming over the schools of the country, and parents are coming to seek training for their children that will equip them for the profession of business and commerce." Power said. He pointed out the vast amount of training necessary to fit a man for a position in the commercial world, and added that if Port Arthur Business college ever functions as it should, it will become a college of commerce.

As an initial step toward enlarging the scope of training given at the business college, Power today started a survey of employees in Port Arthur with a view of determining the number of men and women in the city who would be benefited by increased training for commercial and business careers.

2,500 Lions in Texas
Reporting on the convention of Texas Lions clubs held this week in Waco, G. E. Perry, secretary, and J. B. Tucker, treasurer of the Port Arthur club, told fellow-members that the organization in this state now has 2,500 members in 54 clubs. The national organization, they reported, has doubled each year since it was founded several years ago.

The Texas district convention next year will be held in Paris, Texas.

BROWNINGS, HELD FOR MURDER, DENIED BAIL
SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, April 13.—John Browning Jr., son of the noted inventor and his cousin Martin Browning, were refused their freedom on bail today when arraigned on a charge of murder in connection with the killing of Benjamin Ballantine, banker.

The Brownings were arrested after the fatal shooting of Ballantine at his home during a quarrel over Mrs. Ballantine.

A man can't say a word with his mouth full of hair pins.

G.O.P. SHAKEUP NOT YET RIPE

The Harmonizers Succeed in Avoiding a Split

WASHINGTON, April 13.—There will be no shakeup in the republican party's national organization at this time.

In the interest of party harmony, and acting upon the express efforts to force out John T. Adams, chairman of the national committee who today returned to his desk after a European visit.

Mr. Harding's Confidence
Mr. Harding will take an early opportunity to evidence his confidence in Adams. They will meet at the White House within a few days.

In keeping with his desire that politics be adjourned for the present, Mr. Harding has expressed the view that were it usual for the party to challenge its management at a time like this, it would be inappropriate.

Adams in Accord
Adams today expressed himself as in complete accord with Mr. Harding's view that political discussions should be foregone until the campaign makes them necessary. For that reason, he declined today to talk politics beyond stating that the formal work of the party would go on.

He and his friends regard as the work of "busy bodies" the rumors that a determined effort would be made to unseat him because of the republican reverses in the last congressional election.

Party Ax May Fall
Adams, however, probably will not lead the next republican campaign. He is fully aware of that. He is filling the unexpired term of Will H. Hays, who retired to enter the cabinet, and his term will end with the 1924 republican convention. He expects to hold office then, but it will occasion him no surprise if some other republican is chosen at that time to direct Mr. Harding's campaign.

Some marry for better or worse. Some for target practice.

While speaking your mind it is best to mind your speaking.

VAUCLAIR IS TYRANT OF INDUSTRY, GOMPER'S

WASHINGTON, April 13.—Samuel Vaclair, head of the Baltimore Locomotive Works, "industrially is the type of autocrat but typified by Lenin, Trotsky and their gang," Manuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, declared today in a statement commenting on

Vaclair's statement, published in a report in the Baltimore Sun.

Laughing in contempt at Vaclair, but then, he has nothing much to laugh about.

Germans are so small you need a microscope to see them, and they ought to feel even smaller.

2 Saturday Shoe Specials

That are sure to please you If you but see them

The Arayle
A tony red oxford in the latest brogue last, made by W. L. Douglas. Has rubber heel, Saturday special

Straight Last
Brown kid straight. A shoe that is really worth $7. Has rubber heel, Saturday special

$7.50 $5.45

Boston Shoe Store
329 Procter

BLAME TARIFF IN SUGAR JUMP

Harding Prepares to Deal in Situation

WASHINGTON, April 13.—President Harding and his cabinet today took a hand in the sugar situation as New York dispatches told of a new high price level for Cuban raw sugar.

Acting Attorney General Seymon, returning from a hasty conference in New York with District Attorney Raymond and other officials, took with him to the cabinet meeting a mass of data on the sugar price in violation, the justice department has been making.

At the same time the report to the president of the tariff commission, which Mr. Harding directed to find out whether the tariff was responsible for the price increases, was postponed until next week, because to give the cabinet was understood to deal with the handling of sugar imports in New York. Whether it forms the basis for governmental action was to be discussed by Mr. Harding and his advisers.

CUBAN SUGAR BOOST
BLAMED TO AMERICANS
SEATTLE, Wash., April 13.—Joseph W. Fordney, former congressman from Michigan and author of the new tariff act blamed speculators today for recent advances in sugar prices.

"Ninety per cent of the sugar plantations of Cuba are owned by Americans," Fordney said, defending the tariff.

The commission's meeting with Mr. Harding has been deferred in an effort to reconcile the differences.

The data Seymour was prepared to give the cabinet was understood to deal with the handling of sugar imports in New York. Whether it forms the basis for governmental action was to be discussed by Mr. Harding and his advisers.

CUBAN SUGAR BOOST
BLAMED TO AMERICANS
SEATTLE, Wash., April 13.—Joseph W. Fordney, former congressman from Michigan and author of the new tariff act blamed speculators today for recent advances in sugar prices.

"Ninety per cent of the sugar plantations of Cuba are owned by Americans," Fordney said, defending the tariff.

The commission's meeting with Mr. Harding has been deferred in an effort to reconcile the differences.

The data Seymour was prepared to give the cabinet was understood to deal with the handling of sugar imports in New York. Whether it forms the basis for governmental action was to be discussed by Mr. Harding and his advisers.

CUBAN SUGAR BOOST
BLAMED TO AMERICANS
SEATTLE, Wash., April 13.—Joseph W. Fordney, former congressman from Michigan and author of the new tariff act blamed speculators today for recent advances in sugar prices.

"Ninety per cent of the sugar plantations of Cuba are owned by Americans," Fordney said, defending the tariff.

The commission's meeting with Mr. Harding has been deferred in an effort to reconcile the differences.

The data Seymour was prepared to give the cabinet was understood to deal with the handling of sugar imports in New York. Whether it forms the basis for governmental action was to be discussed by Mr. Harding and his advisers.

CUBAN SUGAR BOOST
BLAMED TO AMERICANS
SEATTLE, Wash., April 13.—Joseph W. Fordney, former congressman from Michigan and author of the new tariff act blamed speculators today for recent advances in sugar prices.

"Ninety per cent of the sugar plantations of Cuba are owned by Americans," Fordney said, defending the tariff.

The commission's meeting with Mr. Harding has been deferred in an effort to reconcile the differences.

The data Seymour was prepared to give the cabinet was understood to deal with the handling of sugar imports in New York. Whether it forms the basis for governmental action was to be discussed by Mr. Harding and his advisers.

PRIEST SLAYS HIS SUPERIOR

Fires Four Shots While at Dinner Table

KALAMAZOO, Mich., April 13.—Rev. Father Charles Dillon, assistant pastor of St. Augustine's Roman Catholic church, is being held at police headquarters today for the shooting to death of Rev. Father Henry O'Neill, rector of the church.

The shooting took place at the dinner table last night. Four shots were fired all of which took effect.

According to the confession of Dr. Dillon made to the chief of police he had been driven to fury by alleged ill-treatment at the hands of the pastor.

"I protested in vain against his attitude and when we quarreled over the matter he ordered me to pack up my belongings and leave," Father Dillon said.

"I went upstairs to pack up but it was a revolver I packed and not a suitcase. I then went downstairs to the dining room. I intended to give him a chance to confess and repent before I killed him but as I advanced into the room, with the hand holding the pistol extended, I saw him grab a salt cellar to throw at me, and I fired once and then twice. After that I do not recall very well what happened."

Rev. Father McCullough, who was at the dining table when the shooting occurred, was too nervous to make a statement.

Priests who knew Father Dillon said he suffered spells of insanity.

HERO IN WAR, HERO IN PEACE

But Act of Valiancy Costs Officer's Life

EL PASO, Texas, April 13.—El Paso was in mourning today for one of her war heroes, who died last night while acting a hero in peace.

Within 24 hours of the time his father died in Philadelphia, City Detective Frank Burns, 28, succumbed here of wounds he received when he entered a house in response to the screams of a woman.

Two men in the house emptied pistols at Burns as he entered the door. The slayer then escaped into Mexico.

Burns was one of four white survivors of the battle of Carrizal, Mexico. He was in France with the American army and received two wounds in action. He was born at Shamokin, Pa.

Tomorrow he will be buried from St. Patrick's Cathedral by the local American Legion.

He leaves a young widow.

From the way birds hung around a garden they seem to think all kinds of seed are hard seed.

SORE THROAT
Gargle with warm salt water—then apply over throat—
VICKS VAPORUB
Over 17 Million Jars Used Yearly

AT THE L. SCHUH STORE

Many new and beautiful shoe numbers came in last week. This ad is your invitation to come inside and look over our stock. And whether you buy or not you are welcome to inspect the picture of Port Arthur in 1896, painted by the Dutch Artist D. Rezelman.

THE LATEST FOR LADIES

Grey Suede Patent Strap Pump ... $7.75
Patent Sally Sandals ..... $5.50
Black Patent Suede Trim Strap Pumps ..... $6.50

We have plenty of shoes for boys and girls.

FOR MEN

Peters, Endicott Johnson, Stacy Adams, and the Davis Shoes, all quality goods, at right prices